

Minimum Wage For Michigan Gains Support

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Allison Green today joined the list of long-time foes of minimum wage legislation who predict that a wage floor bill backed by Gov. George Romney's administration will be approved this year.

Green — one of the legislature's most outspoken opponents of minimum wage in years past — said he personally will support the proposal, which was to be filed today for introduction.

The bill, drafted following months of study by a legislative interim committee, is modeled after the Federal Wage Law in that it calls for a progressive scale starting at $1 and rising to $1.25 at the end of two years.

With Rep. Don Gordon, R-Leland, chairman of the interim committee, as chief sponsor, the bill will carry strong bi-partisan support.

Although not the first, Green's was perhaps the strongest legislative voice yet to be lent to support of the minimum wage proposal.

Green has predicted flatly that the bill will be approved. So has Romney, who last year advocated passage of a similar bill defeated on the last night of the regular session.

Green said he was satisfied that the new proposal meets the objections that caused him to oppose minimum wage legislation in prior years.

"One of these was that the subject hadn't been given enough study. Another was that 1964 would be a more appropriate year for passage of such a bill," said the Kingston Republican.

Girl Acquitted Of Arson Charge In Suomi Fire

HANCOCK (AP) — Christine Goerner, 20, of Orville, Ohio, who allegedly set an $80,000 fire on the Suomi College campus, has been found innocent of arson by reason of temporary insanity.

Miss Goerner, a student at the college, was released by Houghton County Circuit Court which returned $1,000 bond she had posted. Houghton County Sheriff John Wiitanen said Miss Goerner planned to return to Orville.

The arson charge resulted from the fire at the Old Main Building in November, 1961, he said.

Wiitanen said doctors testified Miss Goerner had been taking thyroid pills to alleviate an overweight condition. The doctors testified that an excessive amount taken the day of the fire caused temporary insanity, he said.

Big First Step Taken In Lansing To Fight Crime

LANSING (AP) — Joint subpoena powers for the attorney general and the governor won endorsement as an "important first step" in fighting organized crime Tuesday from a group of federal, state and local law enforcement officials.

Meeting behind closed doors, representatives of 12 jurisdictions supported subpoena powers for the state officials and for county prosecutors as well.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who called the meeting in a campaign against organized crime, said:

"At both the state and local level this basic tool is seen as an important first step in stepping up the activities of law enforcement agencies in this area."

Attorneys general have tried for years to obtain legislative approval for subpoena power.

Kelley will introduce legislation this year to provide power to subpoena persons or records upon joint approval of the attorney general and the governor.

In Tuesday's meeting, the officials agreed to establish a permanent committee to coordinate efforts in combating organized crime.

The committee would meet monthly and have a rotating chairmanship. Included in the group would be U.S. and state attorneys, FBI, state and local police departments, county prosecutors and officials from other local jurisdiction where organized crime is a major concern.

Singled out for attention among Michigan's most pressing law enforcement problems were the numbers racket, the use of paragon as a narcotics substitute, and a shortage of trained investigators and legal personnel.

Kelley said the numbers operation "looms presently as the biggest immediate operation of organized crime in Michigan."

The board also proposed Tuesday night that as a matter of policy, transportation of classes be stopped as soon as possible.

Officials of the United Freedom Movement, a civil rights confederation, said the group would suspend all demonstrations pending a meeting tonight at which it will consider the board's plan.

If the school board formally adopts the proposal, it would be at its meeting Monday.

The crisis over transported pupils was the cause of demonstrations and violence the past week. Demonstrators who blocked some doorways and corridors in the downtown school board headquarters Tuesday were carried or dragged from the building.

Paddy wagons hauled 20 demonstrators to Central Police station, where three were charged with obstructing an officer and two with assault and battery. All were later released.

Timothy Wright died in Hurley Hospital of burns suffered in the blaze at a two-story frame home on the city's north side.

His sister, Janice, 9, and brother, Vincent, 3, suffocated in the blaze. Another brother, Billy, 5, was listed in poor condition Tuesday with third-degree burns.

Firemen said the home, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wright and their five children, apparently caught fire when a chair was ignited by a candle.

President Asks Safeguards For U. S. Consumer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for new laws to protect consumers against phony packaging and disguised interest charges. And he suggested possible use of federal experts to help low-income families prepare household budgets.

Johnson, in a special message on consumer interests, endorsed nine specific pieces of legislation including pending bills to ban deceptive packaging and to require full disclosure of interest rates on installment purchases.

"For far too long," Johnson said, "the consumer has had too little voice and too little weight in government."

The President said that while labor, business, farmers and professional groups have been well represented, the consumer "has had to take a back seat."

The most novel idea in the message — the use of trained government workers to help low-income families learn more about budgeting and how to "get the most for their money" — was not put forward in the form of legislation.

Instead, Johnson said he was asking all federal agencies interested in consumer education to explore fully the possibility of adapting the Agricultural Extension Service concept, "so successful in rural areas," to cities and towns.

The President also said the government would try to promote consumer education in the schools and encourage more young people "to seek instruction in the fundamentals of budgeting, buying and borrowing."

He said his committee on consumer interests soon will begin a series of regional conferences to explore "the problems of adequate consumer information."

Johnson devoted most attention to truth-in-packaging proposals.

"I recommend legislation to insure that the consumer has access to the information necessary to make a rational choice among competing package products," he said.

As for truth-in-lending, he called for a new law that would require lenders to disclose in advance the total amount of interest to be paid and the annual rate of interest.

Other legislative recommendations were:

A requirement that cosmetics be proved safe before marketing and that federal inspection of foods, drugs and cosmetics be expanded.

Require inspection of all meat.

Hoffa Linked To Jury Fixing

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A Teamsters official testified today that James R. Hoffa told him of plans to "try to get to a few scattered jurors" in the Teamsters president's conspiracy trial.

Edward Grady Partin, Baton Rouge, La., Teamsters officer, testified over heated defense objections at the jury-tampering trial of Hoffa and five other men. His was the first testimony linking Hoffa with any alleged jury-fixing efforts so far in the trial, now in its third week.

"He called me to his room," said Partin, business manager of Baton Rouge Local No. 5. "He told me he'd like for me to stick around a few days. He might want me to talk to a few people."

"He said they were going to get to one juror and try to get to a few scattered jurors and take a chance."

Hoffa and the others are accused of trying to influence jurors in the 1962 Nashville trial.

The government won a major victory when U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson this morning permitted Partin to testify.

Cities In Five States Isolated By Blizzard

By The Associated Press

Scores of towns and cities were isolated and traffic was paralyzed as a near blizzard swept ponderously through portions of five southwestern states Tuesday.

Snowfalls of 6-25 inches were whipped into drifts of up to 10 feet in eastern New Mexico, southeastern Colorado, south-western Kansas and the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles.

Thousands of cars and trucks and some buses dotted the sides of the highways and streets, abandoned by occupants now snowbound in motels and hotels waiting out the storm.

Schools, offices and stores remained closed in many cities and towns, except for emergency use.

Texas Gov. John Connally put Amarillo on an emergency basis and mobilized the National Guard for duty. The snowfall ranged between 10-15 inches in the area.

The heaviest snow was 25 inches in Borger, Tex.

The weather was blamed for four deaths in New Mexico and three in southeastern Texas.

Helicopters stood by today waiting for the weather to clear to join a search for two cowboys missing in the Texas Panhandle since yesterday.

Liberal, Kan., had 10 inches of snow; Buymon, Okla., and Trinidad, Colo., 12; Boise City, Okla., reported 15½; Ruidoso, N.M., 16; and Panhandle, Tex., 19½.

A tornado struck near Eagle Lake in the Houston area, injuring a railroad worker when his trailer house was overturned.

Five inches of hail fell in Chesterville, a community in the same general area.

Farmers welcomed the moisture, but stockmen were concerned about getting feed to their cattle. However, temperatures generally did not fall below the 20s and livestock losses were expected to be light.

Opponents Fail To Weaken Bill On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — One final challenge remains today to House approval of a strong public accommodations provision in the civil rights bill.

A Republican-sponsored amendment that would severely limit its application posed the last threat to a bipartisan coalition that easily turned back Southern attempts to weaken the section Tuesday.

Still ahead are fights over other sections of the 10-part bill, but many Negro leaders regard the public accommodations provision as its heart.

It would prohibit discrimination against Negroes by hotels, motels, restaurants, theaters or other places open to the general public, a type of discrimination that sparked many Negro demonstrations last year and helped generate pressure for a strong bill.

Southern opponents took a shot at cutting down the coverage of the section Tuesday but were badly beaten in an impressive display of strength and cohesion by Democrats and Republicans supporting the bill.

An amendment by Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., the Southern floor leader, to cover only hotels and motels serving mostly interstate travelers, was defeated 165 to 93. And one by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., that would have completely nullified the provision, went down 149 to 107.

The proposal, approved 86-19, was amended prior to passage to give the state the right to dump fill without charge on the submerged land which is destined to become an island.

Questions about whether the developers of the 34-acre island sought only to profit from dumping contracts had been a factor in legislative misgivings on the proposal.

House Minority Leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, said he had figures from the highway department which indicated the developers of Peach Island could make about $550,000 by charging for dumping of dirt from expressway excavations.

Kowalski voted for the bill. Numerous lawmakers spoke in favor of the proposal as an incentive to tourism and a provider of jobs in the Detroit area.

Greek Leader Rejects NATO Police Force

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—An emergency airlift began removing hundreds of American women and children from this Mediterranean trouble spot today as anti-American violence continued on Cyprus.

Terrorists bombed the American Embassy in Nicosia Tuesday night, slightly injuring a Marine guard, then set ablaze two cars owned by U.S. government employees.

U.S. Ambassador Fraser Wilkins ordered a "voluntary" evacuation of American dependents to Beirut, Lebanon, explaining he no longer had confidence in the ability of Greek Cypriot police to keep order.

Terrorism Denounced

Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot president, inspected damage to the embassy and denounced the bombing as the work of "heinous criminals."

The terrorism appeared designed to demonstrate Greek Cypriot opposition to an American-British plan to assign a North Atlantic Treaty Organization peace force to enforce the truce between the island's warring Greek and Turkish communities.

Makarios, in effect, rejected such a force Tuesday by demanding that it be answerable to the U.N. Security Council. The United States and Britain say such a condition is unacceptable because it would give the Soviet Union a chance to interfere.

In Washington, the State Department expressed shock at the "irresponsible" attack on the U.S. Embassy and urged Makarios to restore order and catch the culprits.

Wall Knocked Out

The United States took up its peacemaking role on Cyprus at the request of Britain, which has been unable to work out a solution to prevent revival of the communal violence in its former colony.

Wilkins said the burning of the cars appeared to be part of a "hit - and - run campaign." There were no reports of any further injuries.

Cpl. Henry Theriaque, 26, of North Windham, Conn., an embassy Marine guard, was cut slightly in the leg by one of the embassy blasts Tuesday night.

Two bombs exploded just under the windows of Wilkins' apartment in the modern, six-story embassy. The blasts knocked out part of the wall and disrupted the embassy's telephone system.

U.S. Consul George McFarland said he saw a man get out of a car, drop a package near the embassy wall and then speed off in the vehicle. The embassy was evacuated after McFarland's alert.

Theriaque was knocked off his feet by the second blast as he walked around the corner of the building to inspect damage from the first explosion.

Hotel Attacked

Pan American World Airways sent two jetliners to Nicosia to make shuttle runs across the Mediterranean to Beirut, 160 miles away. The first plane to depart carried 57 women and children.

The evacuation was expected to be completed by Thursday. The American community on Cyprus numbers about 1,700 persons, about 1,200 of them dependents. It was not known how many of the latter would leave.

Bombs also were exploded Tuesday night at a Greek-owned hotel where Britons were staying. None of the guests or employees was injured.

Makarios' rejection of the NATO peace force was disclosed in London by Greek Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou.

The U.S. and British governments have stipulated the 10,000-man NATO force should not be made dependent on the Security Council, in which the Soviet Union has a veto.

Stronger America:

Boy Scout Week Goal Described

The significance of Boy Scout Week Feb. 7-13 and an observance that reminds citizens that a strengthened Boy Scout program will make a stronger America was described at the Escanaba Rotary Club at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon.

Ralph Smith of Marquette, Scout executive of Hiawathaland Council, complimented the Rotary Club for its many years of sponsorship of Troop 404. He suggested the Troop should have a Scout attend the National Jamboree.

Walter Bright of the Rotary Club's program committee, introduced Robert Meyer, Scoutmaster, and Don McKie, assistant, and praised them for their devotion to the Scouts and to the Rotary Club troop.

At the business meeting prior to the program four new members were inducted into Rotary: George Harvey, Marvin Pearson, Frank Waitrovich and Edgar A. Larche. The induction ceremony was conducted by Dr. Vernon K. Johnson and Edward E. Edick and the new members were welcomed by President Robert Mosenfelder.

Zerbel An Officer
The Hiawathaland Council which serves most of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan as well as Niagara and Florence areas has a total of 5,878 registered boy members and over 2,000 registered adults working in Pack, Troop, Post, District and Council activities. The percentage gain of boy members in 1963 was 9.2 per cent during the twelve month period.

The grand total of different registrations handled by the council office in Marquette during the year came to 11,547 with 8,488 different boy registrations and 3,059 adult registrations. Boys can be Cub Scouts while age 8, 9, or 10; Boy Scouts from 11 until 18, and Explorers from 14 or ninth grade until they reach their 18th birthday.

Officers of this fastest growing council in the four state, Region Seven, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin include Burton Boyum, Negau, council president, and Clarence Zerbel, Escanaba, vice president.

Scouting Goals
Each of the six districts, administrative sub-divisions of the council, Chippewa, Copper Country, Pere Marquette, Red Buck, Menominee Range, and Iron Range, have their district chairmen and other officers and operating committees similar to the council committees. The officers and committee chairmen groups meet bi-monthly, usually in the Marquette area to plan and carry out unit program support functions according to their responsibilities.

The purpose of the Boy Scouts of America and its programs stated when it was incorporated (Feb. 8, 1910) and restated when it was chartered by the Congress of the United States on June 15, 1916, is to "promote, through organization, and cooperation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues, using the methods which are now in common use by Boy Scouts."

Sea Scouting for older boys was organized first in 1912 and Cub Scouting for younger boys was formally launched in 1930. Scouting for boys first started in England.

National Council
The Hiawathaland Council as it is today was started in 1944. The first National Council Representatives of the new council included Fred Hahne of Manistique. Among present members representing this area nationally is James Jones, Gladstone.

The Hiawathaland Council operates Camp Red Buck in the summer as its training camp for Scout Troops, and Explorer Units. During 1963 a total of 693 different campers attended from all major areas of the council during the five-week season.

Next year the season has been extended to seven weeks and at present a total of 42 Troops have reserved space for a week or more at the camp.

Kennedy Coins Due In April

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the

JFK HALF DOLLARS: The first of the new John F. Kennedy half dollars are expected to be available to the public in late March or early April. Some 90 million coins will be sent into general circulation—the first to be struck next week in mints at Philadelphia and Denver.

In announced this Tuesday, the White House said actual distribution will not begin until 26 million half dollars are made. They will be distributed through Federal Reserve banks. The face of the coin bears a likeness of Kennedy facing left. The word "liberty" is above and around the border, and the date is below. Beneath the picture is the motto "In God We Trust."

The presidential coat of arms appears on the other side of the coin.

PENTAGON RAID: Treasury agents have arrested eight civilian Pentagon employees on charges of operating a numbers game.

They swooped down on the Pentagon Tuesday. The arrests were similar to a series made in the Pentagon three years ago.

Besides those arrested in the Pentagon, two others were picked up in Washington, including someone described as being high up in the ring and "loaded with slips."

A Treasury agent estimated the daily gross collection by the alleged ring was about $1,000. He said some of those arrested were employed in the office of the Navy judge advocate general.

REARDON: The White House has announced the resignation from its staff of Timothy J. Reardon, a long-time aide of the late President Kennedy.

In making the announcement, White House news secretary, Pierre Salinger said Reardon would remain in the government as special assistant to Joseph W. Barr, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Reardon had been close adviser to leave the White House staff since Johnson became President Nov. 22. Special counsel Theodore Sorenson and assistant Arthur Schlesinger resigned earlier to write books.

Prosperity KOs Tax Reform As Spending Rises

Governor Romney won't renew his fight for state tax reform this year after a clobbering last year and in face of state prosperity, but the need for more tax income grows with the state's population, students and aged.

The state's tax income grows too, under the present levies, but not as fast as the state's increasing demands for it, Glenn S. Allen, state controller, told the 11th annual Upper Peninsula Conference for Tax Assessing Officers at their dinner meeting Tuesday night in the House of Ludington.

The University of Michigan Extension Service is conducting the conference, which ended $37 million to the $585. He has added $10 to the $224 per child school aid formula. This will cost the state $10 million and aid every Upper Peninsula school district. And he has added $11 million for higher education.

"We are too prosperous at the present time to do much about changing the tax structure," said Allen. "This is the big reason why tax reform failed."

"Short range—certain things will happen."

In The Black
"The new constitution permits counties to vote for a tax limit of 18 mills instead of 15 and to set their own allocation. Under the new constitution counties can have their own unlimited form of taxation, like cities, with income and sales taxes. The governor says we have got to have some uniformity in such levies and I think there will be a clarifying statute from the Legislature this session, setting rates, exemptions, applications."

"A year and a half ago Michigan had an $85 million deficit. This has been wiped out and on July 1, 1964 there will be a surplus of $39 million or more. The state's budget, if it kept only present services, would increase $35 million from $550 million to $585 million."

"This increase is $10 million for pupil aid to 56,500 more kids in grades K-12, and $10 million for 10,000 more high school kids going to college, 2.5 million more for care of the elderly under the Kerr-Mills Act."

"Michigan's budget has been increasing $30 million to $35 million, or 5 to 6 per cent a year for 10 years with just built-in increases and no improvements. At the same time Michigan's existing tax structure produced around $15 million a year more. In the past 8 years the revenue growth in the tax structure has been 2.9 per cent a year."

More Buildings
"In the past year growth of revenues was approximately the same as growth of revenues, which is unusual. We had 5.3 per cent growth in the revenue structure and about 5.3 per cent budget increase."

"The governor doesn't think we should go another year of status quo (unchanged) budgeting — he thinks the state should do more, so he has added $37 million to the $585. He has added $10 to the $224 per child school aid formula. This will cost the state $10 million and aid every Upper Peninsula school district. And he has added $11 million for higher education."

"The governor says we need more buildings and to the $38 million for capital investment he has added $13 million in the new budget. Included is $125,000 (with $125,000 matching federal funds from the Hill Burton Act) for a new Michigan State Health Department laboratory in Escanaba. Northern Michigan University will get $9.2 million in 6 years, Michigan Tech $6.5 million."

"We are in excellent shape and will still have a surplus of $24 million to get a good start on the next year. But we must encourage economic growth and there are things in our tax structure that don't encourage it, but we can't change it this year. We've been in oo much of a fight."

FEWER ORPHANS IN INSTITUTIONS
The need for taking care of orphans in institutions has lessened considerably in recent years because of the increased longevity of parents, and Social Security benefits for widows and foster parents.

Passenger Car Production Up

DETROIT (AP)—Ford, Chevrolet and Cadillac Monday reported record passenger car production for the month of January.

Chrysler said its January production was ahead of January of last year.

Other car makers had yet to issue January production reports.

Ford and Chevrolet also reported record truck production last month.

Ford said it built 200,135 cars, compared with its January, 1960, record of 199,999. It said its production was 16 per cent above January last year.

Chevrolet, a General Motors division, said it produced 228,063 cars, compared to the previous one-month high of 222,132 of May 1963.

Cadillac, also a GM unit, reported January production of 17,624, compared to its prior one-month record of 17,267 in December 1958.

Chrysler said its total car production for January was 101,689 as against 89,979 for January of last year.

Chevrolet said its truck production for January, 1960, all-time record of 39,599, and 14 per cent above last January.

Northern Will Stage Carousel

MARQUETTE — "Carousel," the Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II Broadway hit of the 1940's and '50's, has been selected as this year's musical show by the Northern Michigan University production staff.

The third Broadway musical to be presented by Northern, "Carousel" follows 1962's "South Pacific," and last year's "Guys and Dolls."

"Carousel," which is scheduled to run five days, March 17-21, will be the first musical staged in Northern's new Little Theater. George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan" was produced in the Little Theater in December.

Steno Becomes Gambling Spy

PONTIAC (AP) — State police disclosed today that a pretty, brunette stenographer for the Michigan Legislature had been used as a police spy before a gambling raid in which 49 were arrested last Oct. 11 at the Steren Assembly Club in Madison Heights.

She is Margaret A. Allen and disclosure of her role as a police undercover agent came with examination of 24 of the defendants in the West Bloomfield Township Hall.

Two of those arrested were named by former Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards before a Senate committee as leaders of the alleged Mafia crime syndicate in the Detroit area.

The two are Eddie Guarella, 45, of St. Clair Shores, accused of operating the club, and Joseph Brooklier, 50, of Mount Clemens, whom police said was Guarella's assistant at the club.

Miss Allen, who changed her hairdo to resemble that of a "Las Vegas type," was reported by state police to have been introduced into the club by Chafic Sabino, who was killed Dec. 24 in an automobile collision in Canada.

Both Michigan and Ontario police were reported to have investigated the crash thoroughly, in the light of Sabino's importance to the state's gambling case against the 49 charged.

Detectives said Sabino, known to them as a gambler, was a frequent of the Steren Club and was not aware of Miss Allen's role when he was introduced to her.

Capt. Fred E. Davids of the Detroit State Police Post said the raid by state and federal agents came 30 minutes after Miss Allen entered the club for a second night with Sabino. She had been introduced to Sabino, police said, as a woman "out on the town."

Justice of the Peace Allen C. Ingle of Farmington Township denied a motion to disqualify himself as the examination opened. He also denied a motion to move the case to another county.

536 In Area Get Disability Help

During the last few days, in the seven county area served by the Escanaba social security office, the mailmen delivered a monthly social security check to 621 disabled men and women. According to Arnold T. Williams, district manager, another 436 people received benefits as dependents of disabled workers. This is over and above the 16,930 people in the area receiving other types of social security benefits.

Williams said that nearly every week his office learns of a disabled worker who has deprived himself and his dependents of benefits through failure to apply for them and he urged all area residents to learn about disability protection under social security.

54th Boy Scout Week Starts In U.P. Friday

Boy Scout Week, observing the 54th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, will feature special activities in the 190 Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops, Explorer Posts, Sea Explorer and Air Explorer Squadrons of the Hiawathaland Council, from Friday, Feb. 7 through Thursday, Feb. 13. Council President Burton Boyum, Ne-gaunee, announces.

Main theme of the week-long event is "Strengthen America—Scouting Can Make the Difference." Uniform Day has been set as Feb. 7 and all Scouts have been urged by their leaders to wear their uniforms to school. Anniversary Day is Saturday, Feb. 8. Traditionally at 8:15 p. m., on this day all Scouts and adult leaders rededicate themselves to the ideal of Scouting wherever they may be. This observance includes the Cub Scout Promise, the Boy Scout Oath or the Explorer Code.

Scout Sunday will be observed on the 9th when all Cubs, Scouts, and Explorers are urged to attend their own church in uniform with their parents and family.

Cub Scout Packs traditionally celebrate Scouting's Anniversary during February by holding "blue and gold banquets" which include recognition ceremonies. The Hiawathaland Council, which serves most of the Upper Peninsula has a total of 5,878 registered boy members and over 2,000 registered adults working in pack, troop, post, district and council activities. The percentage gain of boy members in 1963 was 9.2 per cent during the 12 month period. Boys can be Cub Scouts while age 8, 9, or 10; Boy Scouts from 11 until 18, and Explorers from 14 or ninth grade until they reach their 18th birthday.

Officers of this fastest growing council in the four state Region 7 (Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin) include Clarence Zerbel, Escanaba.

The Hiawathaland Council as it is today was started in 1944 by the merging of five smaller councils covering the same area now served by Hiawathaland. The first National Council Representatives of the new council included Fred Hahne, Manistique. Present members representing this area nationally include James Jones, Gladstone.

The Hiawathaland Council operates Camp Red Buck in the summer as its training camp for Scout Troops, and Explorer Units. During 1963 a total of 693 different campers attended from all major areas of the council during the five-week season. Next year the season has been extended to seven weeks and at present a total of 42 Troops have reserved space for a week or more at the camp.

Recognition of achievement is an important part of the Scouting program. During 1963 the Cubs and Scouts set new records of achievement by exceeding all previous totals in the council's 20 year history.

Funds to provide the many services to the leaders of the Scouting programs are received by the council from all of the area's united funds.

The annual Klondike Derbies will be held in each district in February. Winners of the six skill contests will be invited to participate in the Council Derby on Saturday, March 7, in the Newberry area.

ARA Can't Make Jobs, Declares Senate Overseer

The Area Redevelopment Administration of the U. S. Department of Commerce, which Congressman - at - large Neil Staebler, Democratic candidate for governor calls "a recovery program that works," just won't work, says U. S. Senator A. Willis Robertson, Virginia Democrat and chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, which has jurisdiction over the program to subsidize industry in depressed areas.

ARA is big in the Upper Peninsula. It has financed several development projects, including the technical assistance program of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems supplied by Robert Nathan Associates.

An article in February Nation's Business magazine gives Senator Robertson's views that a program like that of ARA cannot stimulate the economy. Machinery for examining programs like ARA is lacking so it's impossible to determine whether ARA helps create jobs, as it claims, says Nation's Business.

Senator Robertson said that his initial misgivings about ARA have been borne out during the agency's two years of operation and he is urging that an investigation be made if the program is to be expanded, as many congressmen and senators have been suggesting.

Senator Robertson's comments:

"The bill was aimed, for example, at unemployment in the coal fields of Illinois, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Yet we know that when John L. Lewis got the wages of miners up to $22.50 a day, he priced about half of his workers out of the market. The bill was supposed to put them back to work and didn't do it."

Loans Are Key

"The fundamental principle of the bill was that, if the government could lend at a subsidized rate, it could expand industry in depressed areas. I predicted that wouldn't work. I felt we should proceed on the assumption that business can be attracted by high-profit opportunities."

"We found that the figures on unemployment include 16 and 17 year old boys who never had worked, and women who never had worked full time were listed as unemployed."

"I think that the unreasonable control of wages and working conditions by union labor is a great threat to some sections where industries don't have enough money to put in automation to offset the high cost of production. These areas will be squeezed out of the market."

Taxes Hamper

"Then you have taxation. The corporate tax now is 52 per cent, so the corporation has only 48 per cent left. Then the stockholder can be nicked again on what he gets, up to 91 per cent. That doesn't leave much for investment. That's an invitation for programs like this ARA."

"The ARA is competition on the one hand and taxation is a penalty on private enterprise on the other. And laws that are very favorable to organized labor are a further handicap."

"The tax cut will help. Making labor unions subject to the anti-trust laws, so their programs can't go beyond the legitimate functions of wages and working conditions — would help. A little more encouragement to business, and less threat of prosecution if you happen to make a profit, would go far in solving legitimate unemployment."

NOT QUITE THE HUNTER INSTINCT

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Nine-year-old Brad Kidd of Tallahassee had been begging for months to go hunting with his father.

The great day arrived and Dad shot down a duck. The bird was only wounded and the elder Kidd was about to dispatch it when Brad snatched it up.

"It's hurt," said Brad. "Don't kill it. I want to take it home." Next, Bill Kidd tried to shoot a turkey but Brad objected.

"You'll scare my duck," said the hunting trip ended at a veterinarian's office where Brad got instructions for nursing his duck back to health.

Stock Dividend Boosted By GM

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors has declared a 65 cents a share common stock dividend, a rate 15 cents higher than the general 50 cents in each of the eight years past.

The dividend, declared Monday, was the first since GM posted its record 1963 profit of $1.6 billion.

The 65 cents dividend compares to the 50 cents dividend paid per common share in 28 of the last 32 quarters.

General Motors' announcement said nothing about the 65 cents being an increase in the usual dividend rate. However, neither was the payment described as "special" nor was any part of it called "extra."

With the exception of year-end payments, the last time GM directors did other than declare the regular dividend was on May 6, 1963. At that time the company declared a regular 50 cents dividend and a special dividend of 50 cents, a total of $1.

Monday's 65-center was described by chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon as reflecting the "prevailing healthy condition of our business and the promising outlook."

The new dividend is payable March 10 to shareholders of record Feb. 13.

Last year, on its record earnings, GM distributed to its shareholders $1,136,000,000—half

State Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Democratic Sens. Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara split Tuesday on the roll call vote by which the Senate defeated a tax bill amendment by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-

Conn., to give families tax savings on the cost of college education for their children. Hart was among 45 senators voting for the amendment. McNamara and 47 other senators voted against the amendment.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A $4,800 minimum salary for beginning teachers with Bachelor those holding Master degrees has been approved for 1964-65 by the Grand Rapids Board of Education.

Supt. Benjamin J. Buikema said the beginning minimum is

Astronaut Can Spy On Enemy

BROOKS AIR FORCE BASE, Tex. (AP)—An orbiting astronaut can spy effectively on enemy territory with the unaided eye, a team of Air Force ophthalmologists reported.

The group, from the Aerospace Medical Division, told a space medicine conference here that the finding was based on studies of visual reports of six American astronauts who rocketed into space.

The paper, presented by Maj. William B. Clark, said that with proper reconnaissance training, military space pilots could readily spot missile bases, encampments, troop movements and "unsuspected targets of opportunity" from their 100-mile-high outposts.

"Specific definition of man's maximum visual capabilities in space will be one of the most militarily significant achievements in future orbital flights," the paper said.

The report leaned heavily on the remarkable accounts given by Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. after his 22-orbit flight last May.

Cooper said he clearly saw houses and streets in the Himalaya mountains, on the plains of Tibet and in the southwest United States. He said he sighted a vehicle moving on a road, a boat on a river and a steam locomotive on a track.

Some doctors doubted Cooper. They said such sighting from his altitude was beyond the capability of the human eye. Some said the astronaut must have suffered hallucinations.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration assigned a five-man team of experts to determine if Cooper did see objects on earth with such clarity. It concluded that he did.

The ophthalmologist paper concurred.

"When we speak of seeing," it said, "We are talking about complex process which involves intellect and experience as well as optics. We can recognize close friends at greater distances than casual acquaintances. We make this recognition on the basis of imaged clues with which we have become familiar at closer range."

"Major Cooper saw things from orbit in this same way," the paper continued.

Burglary Case Appeal Denied

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court has denied — for the second time in three years — the appeal of a man who contends his conviction for possession of a gun and burglar tools was based on evidence obtained in an illegal search.

The court, deciding 7-0 against the appeal, refused to rule on the constitutional question of illegal search and seizure although justices Harry F. Kelly and Michael D. O'Hara said it was pertinent.

Other members of the court said the facts of the case indicated the search was a legal one, and therefore the constitutional question was not involved.

The plaintiff, George H. Winkle, was convicted in Lenawee County in 1958 and sentenced to 4-5 years on the weapons charge and 5-10 years on the burglar tools charge.

He since has been free on bond pending outcome of the appeal, which went once to the U.S. Supreme Court and was referred back to the state court.

Winkle and a companion, Lee Casteel, were arrested after state police stopped their car for making an illegal left turn. Upon questioning the pair, police became suspicious and found the tools and a pistol in the car.

The court also ruled 7-0 Monday in favor of a Lansing man who sought $17,000 for damages to his private airplane when the door of a state-operated hangar at Capitol City Airport fell on it.

A court of claims had ruled against the claim of Andrew Zynda, a road construction company executive, on grounds of governmental immunity. The high court reversed this decision.

Ruling Appealed

In another case, the court affirmed Berrien County Circuit Judge Karl F. Zick in dismissing, for lack of jurisdiction, a Benton Harbor School Board demand for an injunction to prevent the State Tenure Commission from holding a hearing on a teacher's dismissal.

The teacher, Hugh M. Kahler, had left his classroom three hours early on Nov. 16, 1962, feeling "completely frustrated, humiliated and upset" following a disciplinary problem with a student.

He called school officials two days later and apologized but was told his departure had been considered a resignation. Kahler then filed a petition with the tenure commission to regain his job, and the commission ruled in his favor.

The school board in the meantime sought the temporary injunction to restrain the tenure commission from acting.

The ruling of the tenure commission has been appealed and the case is pending in Ingham County Circuit Court.

Old Labor Laws Lrk Governor

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney lashed out Tuesday at what he termed the nation's outdated labor laws and unnecessary intervention by the White House in some labor disputes.

Romney did not mention President Lyndon Johnson by name in his address to 3,400 delegates and guests at a luncheon sponsored by the National Automobile Dealers Association in convention here.

It was one of the strongest stands Romney, often mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for President, has taken on national issues.

Written In 1930

Romney said Federal laws governing labor relations were written for the most part in the 1930's when labor organizations were emerging as a potent force in the nation's economy.

"Our economy has changed drastically since then, but the government has refused to rewrite the rules," he said.

The first-term Republican governor said that labor must accept the discipline of competition in our economic system, rather than seek government intervention.

Romney indicated he was concerned about recent government intervention in steel and railroad industry labor-management disputes.

He urged an updating of the rules which govern the government's role in labor disputes.

"I can't imagine anything more unsettling in this type of dispute than for the White House to say 'we'll step in when we want' without setting up the rules of the bargaining so all can understand them," he said.

Use Power Wisely

Romney repeated a theme he has stressed many times—that labor, as well as management, needs to use its power wisely.

in business and at the bargaining table.

He said, "There is no adequate substitute for the competition among various segments of our free economy. The alternative is an authoritarian government."

Romney, former president of American Motors, urged NADA members and other auto leaders to follow his example and get into public service.

"It wasn't easy to leave this industry and plunge into the public arena," he said. "However, I was very concerned about our state and our nation. If we are going to change the direction in this country—and I think it needs to be changed—it will take a full commitment by many people willing to use their time and talents."

The governor described as "misleading nonsense" the theory that there is an affluent society in America.

He said, "In addition to the unemployed and poverty ridden, most American families are still engaged in a hand-to-mouth struggle to make ends meet. The present average of $125 weekly income for American families is far from adequate," he said.

"We need government leadership that understands our economic principles and has faith in their superiority," Romney told the dealers. "I am concerned about what is happening in this country, morally and spiritually," he added.

Fish were the first animals to have backbones.

Meat producers and packers strongly support uniform meat inspection across the state, he said.

Michigan recently had "a tragic example" of what can happen to human lives and an industry when contaminated food reaches the home, he said.

"The recent botulism scare. . . cost at least seven people their lives and it nearly killed the smoked fish industry," Romney said.

The talk was one of the highlights of the week-long combination farm show, fair and continuing education session.

THIS BALSAM butt shows that trees may be old and small. It is 65 years old and less than 4 inches in diameter. Joseph Schernick of Marathon Division-American Can Co. is the forester, active in the U. P. checking tree farms.

A GLOVED HAND points a tiny balsam tree, mutilated and stunted by rabbit browsing. Deer too are a balsam management problem, but not so much so as rabbits, it being a starvation feed that kills deer if eaten in large volume.

JOSEPH SCHERNICK, of Lakewood, Wis., Marathon Division of American Can Co. forester, checks the growth rings on a white spruce stump. The area between his pencil marks grew in 10 years. The 19 inch spruce took more than 30 years of growth an inch and a half and then grew at the rate of an inch in diameter every two years.

Tree May Live And Not Grow, Farmers Warned

By JEAN WORTH

It comes as a surprise to some woodlot owners, say foresters, that although trees are living they are not necessarily growing.

This is a lesson of great importance to farmers and other woodland managers of the Upper Peninsula in forest management. Management simply means that forests are provided with roads for access and then harvested when mature, thinned to promote growth, upgraded by selective cutting and planted, if necessary, although this becomes increasingly unnecessary in the U.P. unless the owner wants to introduce a species of his choice.

Robert Schmeling, woodlands manager of Mead Corp., reports measurements of a U.P. cedar stand which showed that it had grown not at all in five years. Foresters can make a diagnosis of growth by going to the core of the living tree with an increment borer that shows the rate of growth year-by-year in the annuals of the trunk.

Growth Factors

And of course the stump left when the tree is cut is a record of the whole life of the tree, showing its age and how much it grew each year. These stump histories have taught foresters a lot about growth factors.

They show the effects of periods of growth and especially they show the influence of the changing forest around the tree. A "release cutting" of competing growths will usually cause the remaining trees to greatly accelerate their rate of growth, as much as 5 times.

But Joseph Schernick of Lakewood, Wis., a forester for Marathon Division of American Can Co., making tree farm inspections in the Upper Peninsula, told tree farmers that in management of balsam, release cuttings must be early in the life of the stand to be effective. Balsam is an important U.P. pulpwood because it seeds so abundantly and is not a good deer food.

"A balsam will mature in 50 years," said Schernick. "If it's in a swamp, it may take 60 years. This means that a release cutting (removing other competing trees) at 35 years won't help the balsam. It's old already and like anything old it can't respond much."

"The casual look at such timber may lead to the belief that it's young because it's small, but it can be small and old and if it is, it's chance to grow is small."

Forestry, like other things, is full of seeming contradictions and Schernick, performing an "autopsy" on the stump of a white spruce 19 inches in diameter said that it had grown only 1 1/2 inches in more than 30 year of its early life.

Then the spruce "took off" and in 50 years grew to 19 inches in diameter and produced 7 1/2 sticks of pulpwood 8 feet long. For most of the period the tree grew an inch every two years after spending a third of a century growing to only one inch in diameter.

Spruce has different characteristics than balsam. Once the North's prime pulpwood, spruce is still a desirable one because of its fiber quality, but has declined greatly in use because of technological and economic changes. It is abundant in Canada and because of the paper industry's early dependence upon this species, it was a big import into the Lake States.

But now the Lake States, while they haven't greatly boosted their spruce production, have increased their use of other species of their own growth. This substituting of lower priced woods for spruce has shrunk the market for spruce so that Upper Peninsula producers have found it difficult to market all of the spruce that they can produce at the present time.

Schernick said that U.P. logging experience has shown that the more cutters clear cut forest the more spruce regeneration they get, and that where there's less clear cutting there's more balsam growth.

Senators Help Beat Tax Saving

WASHINGTON (AP) Sens. Phil Hart and Pat McNamara, D-Mich., split their votes Tuesday on one unsuccessful tax bill amendment concerning deductions for college expenses, but voted together in opposition of a second measure.

Sen. Hart voted for an McNamara amendment, which would have given families tax savings on the cost of college education for their children.

Both senators voted against an amendment to allow working students to deduct a portion of their college expenses on their tax returns. The measure was defeated in a 47-47 vote.

The West German government plans to build another thousand miles of autobahns by the end of this decade.

National Forest Timber Sale

RAPID RIVER RANGER DISTRICT HARVEST AREA

Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor, U. S. Forest Service, Escanaba, Michigan, up to 2:00 PM (EST), March 10, 1964, and will be opened immediately thereafter for all live timber marked or designated for cutting and all merchantable dead timber located on an area of about 440 acres in Sections 11 and 14, Township 41 North, Range 22 West, Michigan Meridian, Hiawatha National Forest. No bid less than the minimum rates shown below for each species and product will be considered. The estimated volumes and minimum rates are: 1090 cords of Aspen, Paper Birch and Balsam of Gilead at $1.00 per rough cord (of this 1090 cords, approximately 68% is Aspen, 25% is Paper Birch and 7% is Balsam of Gilead); 240 cords Balsam fir pulpwood at $3.60 per rough cord; 130 cords Spruce pulpwood at $9.20 per rough cord. The above rates include deposit for sale area betterment. Under certain conditions, the Forest Service may, upon written agreement with the purchaser, base stumpage charges on the scale of pulpwood and other products by the receiving agency. A deposit of $200.00 in the form of a certified check, bank draft, cashier's check, or money order must accompany each bid to be applied on the purchase price, refunded or retained in part as liquidated damages according to conditions of sale. Bids submitted without the above form of deposit will require rejection of the bid as unresponsive. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Before bids are submitted full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale, and the submission of bids, should be obtained from the District Ranger, U. S. Forest Service, Rapid River, Michigan, or from the Forest Supervisor, U. S. Forest Service, Escanaba, Michigan.

Historic U.P. Effort

This week the Upper Peninsula got the go ahead signal for a development project without precedent in the area.

The project was proposed by the Tourism and Recreation Committee of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems to develop the attractions, the facilities and the reputation of the Upper Peninsula for recreation.

UPCAP has obtained a grant of $50,000 from the Area Redevelopment Administration of the U. S. Department of Commerce to help finance the 18-month project; Michigan State University will manage the program and spend $85,354 on it, and UPCAP will get $20,000 from local sources to make a total of $155,354.

UPCAP is sponsoring with ARA aid, projects to develop the U. P. economically by inventory of its wood resource, mineral research, fisheries development and other things, but none of them his involved the public to the extent that the tourism and recreation project will. Nor do any of the other projects have the potential to affect the entire Peninsula's economy in the way that this project does.

The Upper Peninsula has been inching into expansion of its recreation business for years. The UPCAP-ARA-MSU project aims to create a new public awareness, new facilities, and new reputation that will enable the U. P. to make some giant strides in development of tourism and resorting.

The time is ripe. The elements needs for achievement are here. And the direction of MSU for the project is heaven-sent. If the U. P. could make a choice of any agency to head this project it would certainly name MSU. It has for many years been the most helpful influence in development of U. P. recreation business and our often tardy implementation of its plans has been the fault of the U. P. and not MSU.

Dr. Uel Blank will coordinate the project. He's assistant director of MSU's Institute for Community Development and knows the Upper Peninsula intimately (he formerly headed MSU's Extension Center at Marquette) and likes it. He'll have a pair of very able planners in Clare Gunn, recreation specialist, and Louis Twardzik, one of Michigan's top authorities on outdoor recreation.

The Peninsula-wide scope of the project makes it a historic undertaking in the Upper Peninsula. The area does not yet have a high general regard for planning, but this huge planning project comes under the very best auspices. It originates in our own county boards of supervisors, our basic local government.

It is an opportunity to lay a big fat egg, or to give the U. P. a sparkling new enthusiasm about its resources and prospects. UPCAP, MSU and ARA are betting with their money and their convictions that the project will mark a turning point in U. P. business growth.

Enjoy Life

So you've kicked the cigarette habit. You no longer automatically reach for a pack that isn't there every time you sit down to a cup of coffee.

Brother, you're still abusing your system. Better dump that steaming cup of dark, delicious delight down the drain.

The American Heart Association reports that a long-term study of over 1,000 men who participated in a heart disease experiment indicates that coffee intake and heart disease are related. There was "a significant correlation between the use of coffee and the later discovery of coronary disease."

So stop smoking. Stop drinking coffee. Stop eating foods high in saturated fats. Cut down your caloric intake, meaning candy, butter, potatoes—all the good things.

Better yet, stop eating entirely, for with every bite you're taking in traces of chemical pesticides which, like radioactive elements, accumulate and accumulate.

(By the way, do you really know how much Strontium-90 is concentrated in your bone marrow?) Most important of all, stop breathing, because the air over our cities is simply loaded with pollutants that are corroding away your lungs and related innards like crazy.

Chain Reaction

In England, a brewery is planning to build a chain of gas stations next to the pubs it owns on the theory that such an arrangement will do no harm because motorists who want to drink and drive will do it anyway.

Here's a business tip for an enterprising outfit that really wants to clean up financially: Establish a chain of roadside hospitals and undertaking parlors to take care of the motorists who patronize the gasgrog combos.

The Doctor Says:

Quick Cure For Cold Lacking

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Much that is new is being learned about the common cold, and much that is old is still true. In the United States about 500 million colds occur every year.

City dwellers have a greater exposure to colds and hence have more colds per year. The spread of colds is almost impossible to prevent because the causative viruses get into the air in battalions every time an infected person sneezes, coughs, laughs or even speaks above a faint whisper. Fortunately they don't live more than a few minutes when exposed to sunlight or drying in the atmosphere, but a goodly number are inhaled and find a happy home in the respiratory tract of some innocent bystander.

It is hoped that there will eventually be one or more vaccines that will prevent colds, but this remains a hope for the distant future. There are so many different kinds of cold virus that a vaccine would have to be developed for each. It might, however, be possible to combine several vaccines in a single injection.

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Just before New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller addressed the Young Republicans in a Washington motel, a man stepped to the microphone in the glare of the television lights and said:

"Testing . . . one . . . two . . . three . . . four. If drafted, I will not run. If nominated, I will not accept. Testing . . . one . . . two . . . three . . . four."

Sen. John Tower, who won fame in 1961 by becoming the first Republican in modern Texas history to win his elective office in his state, told reporters the other day:

"An aunt of mine told me not long ago: 'It's a good thing your granddaddy died before you became a Republican. It would have broken his heart.'"

When Senator Ken Keating, R-N.Y., talked to the assemblage of Young Republicans in the nation's capital, he dwelled at length on the planks in the GOP's party platform of 1860.

Evidently afraid the young folk would not see its relevance for today, he interjected: "The year 1860 may seem a long time ago to you. It seems only yesterday to me." Keating is 63.

In his Press briefing to newsmen on President Johnson's Economic Report to Congress, Dr. Walter Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, was asked at one point to apply a stated principle specifically to particular industries.

Heller thought for a moment, then replied: "As a matter of fact, that language in the report was specifically designed to be general."

Department of Defense Comptroller Charles J. Hitch, presiding at a press conference, was asked a particularly sticky question on the budget. Automatically, he began to talk in circles.

Suddenly, he paused, thought for a second, and asked an aide: "Henry, am I dodging a question to which we have an answer?"

Undersecretary of State Geo. W. Ball used to say that on any given morning he could spin the lighted globe in his office, close his eyes and point to it at random. He could be almost certain of finding a cable on his desk noting a crisis in whatever country his finger indicated.

Telling this story to a reporter, Ball added, "I guess the only solution is to get rid of the globe."

The reporter printed the story and several days later Ball got this letter from a California student: "I read that you would like to get rid of your lighted globe. Would you please send it to us because our classroom doesn't have one?"

Ball sent the letter to the reporter with this note: "You started it. So in all fairness, I think you owe her a globe."

DRY SOCKETS
By Dr. Stephen Sheffrey
And the Michigan State Dental Association

A "dry socket" occurs occasionally after tooth extraction. Although nothing in the mouth can be dry, the name fits the condition, for the socket appears empty and dry in the sense that there is no blood.

After an extraction, the normal healthy socket, soothes the bone, fights infection and in a few days transforms into living tissue, which heals over leaving only a slight depression. The dry socket, by comparison, may never have a good clot, or, if it does have one, is unable to retain it, so can't heal quickly.

Mouth bacteria invade the socket, infest and digest the feeble clot, then set up living quarters on the bony walls of the socket. One connoisseur describes the ensuing pain as having "the highest coefficient of miserability this side of seasickness."

Discomfort may last two weeks, because the socket can't "skinover" quickly. The "skin" of the gums must edge into the socket from its rim in the same way that grass slowly moves into a bare hole in the lawn.

After the hole is "skinned over", the jawbone fills in underneath, eventually eliminating the depression.

The basic cause of a dry socket may be the individual's slow healing ability and lowered resistance, which makes infection possible. What lowers your resistance? Unhealthy gums, fatigue, sleeplessness, illness, hangovers, too much sucking and rinsing after extractions, and the amount of difficulty experienced in removing the tooth.

If a tooth has a hook or bulb on its root, working these out of the socket bruises the bone, which may retard healing enough to cause a dry socket.

Location is a factor also. Ninety percent of all dry sockets occur in the lower jaw at the back. In addition, your chances of getting a dry socket go up with your age. The condition is very rare in persons under 20—one more reason for having useless wisdom teeth removed early.

Diabetics and borderline diabetics experience more than the average share of dry sockets.

Many dry sockets could be prevented if all persons were dosed with antibiotics a day or two before, and several days after, extractions. The expense of this procedure makes it impractical, especially when the odds are with you.

However, if you always develop dry sockets, it might be wise to see your dentist a day or two before the extraction. He might recommend your going to that extra expense, particularly if a lower tooth is to be removed.

Scouts To Hold 'Open House'

In observance of Boy Scout Week, Troop 466 will hold "Open House" for parents and friends at the Dehlin, Olson, Maniaci Clinic Tuesday, Feb. 11, beginning at 7 p. m. David Scherff is Scoutmaster of Troop 466.

The evening's program will include a Court of Honor with an Eagle rank presentation to Lawrence Blahnik of Bay View. Films, slides and pictures of the year's activities will be shown and "OA" Indian dance team presentation will conclude the program. Refreshments will be served.

Boy Scouts will wear their full uniforms to school on Friday, Feb. 7, and attend their respective churches as a group in full uniform on Feb. 8, Scout Sunday.

The Red Buck District will hold its annual Klondike Derby, an exhibition of outdoor scouting skills, at the Gladstone Ski Park, Saturday, Feb. 8. To compete, Scouts must enter as a patrol with the proper equipment, including a Klondike sled, and must register at the park at 9 a. m. A nominal registration fee for each boy will be charged.

Your Income Tax Return

U.S. Treasury Department
Internal Revenue Service
Detroit, Michigan 48231
HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD

There are three separate rate schedules used in computing income tax liability. Schedule I is used by those filing a separate return; Schedule II is used for those allowed to file a joint return; and, Schedule III is used for those who qualify as "head of household."

To qualify as head of household, you must be unmarried or legally separated as of the end of the year. You must have furnished over half of the cost of maintaining a household for the entire year for at least one other person who is related to you. Your unmarried child, grandchild or stepchild must live with you. These persons, however, do not have to qualify as your dependents in order for you to claim head of household. Your father or mother do not have to live with you, but they must qualify as your dependent. All other relatives must live with you and also qualify as your dependents.

Where the relative is required to be a dependent, such status may not arise from a multiple support agreement. The dependent must receive over half of his support from you.

Cost of maintaining the household refers to the household itself. This would include such costs as rent, mortgage interest (not principal), taxes, insurance on the premises, upkeep and repair, utilities, domestic help, and food consumed in the home.

Use Form 1040 when claiming this status.

SURVIVING SPOUSE
Under certain conditions, a surviving spouse may have the advantage of using the tax rates under Schedule II which are the same of those used by persons filing a joint return.

There are five requirements to qualify:

(1) Your spouse must have died in either of the two years preceding 1963; and
(2) You must have been entitled to file a joint return with your spouse in the year of death. It is not required that you actually filed jointly, but only be entitled to so file; and
(3) You have not remarried; and

(4) You have a child or stepchild who qualifies as your dependent; and
(5) You furnish over half the cost of maintenance of your home which is the principle abode for your dependent child or stepchild.

When claiming the Surviving Spouse computation, you must use the Form 1040. You may not compute your tax as Head of Household as long as you are entitled to the benefits of Surviving Spouse.

A surviving spouse may file a joint return in the year of death. For the next two years, he or she may use the joint return rates as Surviving Spouse if the above conditions are met. However, the exemption for the dependent may be claimed only for the year of death.

ISN'T IT AMAZING!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (P) — A newcomer to Memphis was asked by a cashier the other day where she came from.

"From Scotland," she said, the pipes skirling in her voice. "Well, honey," said the cashier kindly, "you sure speak English well for a foreigner."

Mrs. Frank Young Of Rapid River Taken By Death

Mrs. Frank (Irene) Young, 65, of Rapid River died at St. Francis Hospital at 12:05 a. m., today. She had been a patient there since Dec. 22.

Mrs. Young was born in Mayville, Ky., Aug. 3, 1898, and her marriage took place in LaGrange, Ind., in 1932. The family moved to Rapid River in 1934. Mrs. Young was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Clarence Keith of Montgomery, Mich., and Elmer Keith of Coldwater, and two brothers, O'Neil Kanous of Coldwater and Morris Kanous, Sturgis.

The body was taken to the Kelley Funeral Home. Arrangements for services will be completed today.

List Students On Honor Roll

The honor roll for the first semester at Gladstone High School was announced today.

Board Inspects Newest School

Members of the Gladstone Board of Education toured the new high school building and inspected the facilities and fixtures at their regular meeting Monday evening at the James T. Jones School.

Minor additions to the facilities were approved after the inspection. Hours for the new library were established on a trial basis. Effective immediately, the library will be open from 8 a. m. to noon and 1 to 5 p. m., each day and from 7 to 9 p. m., each Monday through Thursday.

The board established a minimum rental fee for the use of the assembly room at the James T. Jones School by private groups.

Plans for an in-service training program for the elementary staff on the modern math program were announced and a report from the salary committee of the faculty was received and accepted for further study.

Reports were given on the sex education conference meeting held last Wednesday. A follow-up meeting will be held under the auspices of the Central PTA Monday, Feb. 17, at the James T. Jones School.

A report on the visit of the officers of the Michigan National Guard to Gladstone last week was made and recommendations given the local armory board were reviewed. The Military Board and the Warren Holmes Architects will meet Wednesday in Lansing.

Briefly Told

Gladstone Lodge 396, F.&M., will hold a regular communication at the Masonic Temple at 7:30 p. m., Thursday. All visiting Masons are welcome to attend.

State Police of the Gladstone post have issued traffic court summonses to John Dever, Neenah, Wis., expired registration plates; Arthur Tourangeau, Bark River Rte. 2, disobeying stop sign; and Francis Lagina, Gladstone Rte. 1, expired operator's license.

Third Day Jitters:

Offers Of Help (And Cigarets) Come To Peggy

By PEGGY MUNSON
The most amazing thing has happened. It almost makes me too busy to think about smoking. I'm starting to receive phone calls from people who offer encouragement and ask advice on how they too can "get over the hump."

It's very rewarding, but of course for every good Joe who is sympathetic there's three others who "try to help" with an offer of a cigarette.

It takes all kinds I guess, but no matter how great the temptation this is something a person has to fight out with himself... take my word for it, it's not always easy.

Today is D-Day or that crucial third day we've heard so much about. They say if a person can get through today the rest is down hill. If we've been following the plan and eating lots of fruit and drinking lots of water, the nicotine should be almost cleaned out of us by now and the cravings are supposed to decrease.

The Stronger Will
Last night's meeting of the Five-Day Plan to stop smoking was one filled with encouragement and tips for getting through today. Dr. Stewart Erhard and Rev. John Erhard, who conduct the clinic, reviewed once again what we were supposed to do: get plenty of sleep, water, oxygen, fruit and keep away from coffee, tea and liquor.

Will power, mentioned previously to be the key to stop smoking, was once again discussed. Last night we learned that our will power must be nourished to gain strength. The will power is nourished through physical habits.

I was amazed, yet I really sort of knew it all the time, at the connection between how we live and what kind of will power we have. There are certain areas where we must be careful, Rev. Erhard warned. The will power is a very sensitive function... beware of overeating, lack of sleep, overworking and liquor... by falling into anyone of these bad habits our chances of having a strong will are practically nil.

Symptoms The Same
There's also another aid we can reach for in the stop smoking campaign and that of course is spiritual. Many people have gotten through the worst part by prayer.

It's amazing how almost all 100 of us, there were more new members last night, had almost the same symptoms during this kick-the-cigs project. Almost everyone complained of being sleepy, sluggish, irritable and some had muscle cramps. Personally my only symptom is that by 3:30 p. m. I'm so crabby most of my co-workers even offer me a ride home just to get rid of me. It's a good thing they're patient. That helps. In fact, at this stage just about everything helps.

The five-day plan might also be described as a better health plan, for if the diet regime were carried out we'd be healthier animals. This includes the need for vitamin B1 in our diet, it seems most of us lack this vitamin and it could make a difference in our personalities.

The day is half spent already and about 50 per cent of the class is supposed to notice the cravings subsiding. So far I don't feel a thing—I'm numb! This may sound like a soap opera but tune in tomorrow to see if I make it.

Smoker Chokes, Almost Drowns

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jess E. Wright, 43, lighted a cigarette and almost drowned.
Driving along Fall Creek Parkway Tuesday, Wright took a deep drag, choked and fainted. His car ran over a curb, rolled down a bank and went into the creek.
"The next thing I knew, my hand was dangling in water," Wright said.
He waded ashore, unhurt and vowed: "I'm giving up smoking."

Exchange Club Greets Askins

The many opportunities for community service by Exchange Clubs was described last evening by Harry Askins, Marshall, Mich., state president in a talk at a dinner meeting of the Escanaba Exchange Club at the House of Liding-ton last night.

Askins with his wife and daughter were guests of the club at a program conducted by William Gasman, club president.

The Askins will go today to Marquette and then to Houghton, where their son, Harry Jr., is head of one of the groups sponsoring the winter carnival at Michigan Tech.

Another guest of the Escanaba Exchange Club last night was Marvin Buck of Marquette. Exchange district governor. Buck reported on the recent midwinter Exchange conference held in Lansing, and suggested that Marquette-Escanaba inter-club meetings be scheduled.

Among Exchange Club projects described by State President Askins and suggested for sponsorship in this community were the Freedom Exhibit for high schools, in which government and laws are explained and students participate in a learning experience; and the Golden Deeds project through which recognition is given individuals for their service to the public.

Askins also reported on his attendance recently at the Exchange Club winter conference held in San Juan, Porto Rico.

While this was the first visit of Askins to Escanaba as state president, he was here about five years ago to install officers when the Exchange Club was organized. At that time Askins was a district governor. Plans of the Escanaba Exchange Club to sponsor a Valentine's Day dance for teenagers were announced at the meeting last night. The chairman of the arrangements committee is Tom Gasman.

Young people will be invited to dance at Teamsters Hall to the music of the Rhythm-Rockers. A nominal admission will be charged and proceeds will go to the Exchange Club's dental fund.

Post Office Plans Station Near Hospital

Postmaster James Pryal today announced that bids would be received by the Post Office until Feb. 18 on provision of a postal contract station in the vicinity of 8th Ave. S. and S. 14th St., near St. Francis Hospital.

Escanaba has no contract stations for the convenience of mailers, although Marquette has four. They make it unnecessary to go to the post office to buy stamps, money orders, or to register or certify mail or post parcels.

The contract offers would run until June 30, 1966 and require the bidder to furnish 150 square feet of space in a location convenient for the public in the front part of a home or business building.

Feed Grain Base Forms Offered

A new farm feed grain base may be established under the 1964 Feed Grain Program for farms which did not plant feed grains in 1959 and/or 1960 that meet eligibility requirements. Vincent Rappette, chairman of the Delta County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announces today.

Producers can contact the County ASCS Office not later than Feb. 28, and file an application.

Judi Paulson Is Homemaker Award Winner

Miss Judi Paulson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Paulson of 1410 S. 17th St., and a senior at Escanaba Area Senior High School, has been named the school's 1964 Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Judi achieved the highest score at the school in a written knowledge and attitude examination given Dec. 3. Her testing paper will be entered in competition for state honors. She is a member of the Home Economics Club, is a past president, holds the office of treasurer this year, and is also a member of Future Nurses and of the school Library Club.

Miss Paulson works afternoons on the co-op program at the school and serves as a library aid at the Junior High School.

She says she is seriously planning on entering the Women's Air Force after graduation.

CHEVELLE! MALIBU SUPER SPORTS by CHEVROLET

What's so super about the Chevelle Malibu Super Sports?

Let's start with the inside. You get individually adjustable front bucket seats, soft, color-keyed leather-grain vinyl. Special instrumentation—ammeter, oil pressure and water temperature gauges. Bright metal console panel with either sporty 4-speed* stick shift or Powerglide* floor-mounted straight-line shift.

Under the hood? Lots of choice. Two Sixes—standard 120-hp and optional 155-hp*. Three V8's from the standard 283-cu.-in. job up to (you're reading it right!) 327-cu.-in.* Try this one to flatten out hills!

Some mighty appealing options*, too. Electric tachometer, Positraction rear axle, sintered metallic brake linings and sports-styled simulated walnut steering wheel, to name a few. Even the exterior says it's super—special moldings and emblems, special wheelcovers that define the highly maneuverable Chevelle 115-inch wheelbase. (Chevelle is smaller than the Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolet, bigger than the popular Chevy II, and fits beautifully in between them.)

Actually, about all that's not super about these Malibu SS Coupes and Convertibles is their price. And there's so much more to find out about them, the only right way to take it all in is to drive one. Your Chevrolet dealer can take care of that, too.

Tax Assessment School Attracts Record Turnout

The 11th annual conference of Upper Peninsula tax assessors conducted here Tuesday and today by the University of Michigan Extension Service drew the largest turnout in the history of the conference.

There were 185 assessors and tax officials at Tuesday's session, which is 60 more than had been expected.

The reasons for the big turnout:

1. Many new officers learning the routine.
2. New law requiring the use of the Michigan State Tax Commission Manual or a MSTC-approved manual in assessing property.
3. A change in the veterans homestead tax exemption law.
4. Increasing complexity of taxing practices and the trend toward county tax departments.

Death and taxes, says the old saw, are always with us.

Itinerant

John Pentilla, Iron County supervisor, wanted to know at the tax assessors conference what to do about a houseboat on Chicaque Lake. He said four townships bordered on the lake and there was indecision as to which could claim the craft for tax purposes.

State Tax Commission officials said the boat wasn't taxable if it was licensed but that if it is a houseboat it should be taxed as a residence where it usually ties up.

"It goes from one township to another," mourned Pentilla.

But while death may be unchanging (actually it isn't) and it comes much later than it used to taxes are certainly changing.

Create Tax Depts.

The most commonplace and numerous tax assessing officer in Michigan is the township supervisor. Tax assessing is one of his duties and his income tends to average only $85 to $100 a month and this is not a realistic amount of pay for the work of assessing all the property in a township, keeping records on changes and preparing a tax roll, the conference was told.

Cities have tax assessors who work full time at the job and counties are creating tax departments to backstop the supervisors and city assessors and create an orderly and continuing system of tax accounting.

Houghton was the first U. P. county to create a tax department. Now Dickinson, Delta, Menominee, Schoolcraft, and Baraga have them and the newest one was created in Alger this year. That counts 7 departments in 15 counties.

William Dennison, secretary of the State Association of Supervisors, told the conference that if local government is to continue its officers must be able. He said that there would be efforts in the Legislature to require that all assessors be schooled, which would knock out many elected supervisors, unless they have an effective taxing process.

Ghana Rioters Down US Flag

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has protested to the government of Ghana concerning anti-American demonstrations in front of the U.S. Embassy in Accra.

The U.S. protest was issued Tuesday night by G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, to Ambassador Miguel A. Ribeiro of Ghana.

One unofficial report said demonstrators tore down the U.S. flag outside the embassy but that the assistant attaché, in what unofficially was termed an act of courage and bravery, ran it back up.

The attaché was identified as Adger E. Player, 31, a Negro from Denver, Colo., who is serving in his first State Department post. He was named to it July 13, 1962.

The demonstrators marched around the embassy and carried placards that read "down with Yankee imperialism" and "Ghana yes, Yankee no."

U.S. Ambassador William P. Mahoney Jr. made a strong representation to Foreign Minister Kojo Botso of Ghana, the State Department had said earlier.

Group To Start Voters' Check

Beginning Monday a group of volunteers, Republican and Democratic women, will co-operate with the City of Escanaba in its program of reorganizing voting precincts in the city and reducing the number from nine to seven.

City Clerk Don Guindon said today the volunteers will gather in the Council chamber and under supervision of Guindon and Deputy Clerk Stella Jandis check the master and registration file of voters. The project is hoped to be completed within a week.

Approximately 5,000 registered voters in the city (of a total 6,775) will be affected by the precinct reorganization—but they do not need to feel concerned that they may lose their vote.

"Each registered voter affected by the change will be notified by first class mail," said Guindon. "He will be advised that the precinct in which he has voted in the past has been divided and will be told what precinct he is now in and where to vote."

The reorganization will, by reducing the number of precincts and equalizing the voting load, result in a saving in staffing for elections, and will increase efficiencies. The city's 21 voting machines can thus be used to maximum advantage, assuring the shortest possible wait to the voters.

The change allows room for growth in all precincts without further rearrangement. There were 1,382 registered voters in one of the city's precincts before the change. This was the ninth. The state election law limits the total to 1,400.

Johnson Talks At Two Dinners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson makes his third trip to New York as President today to take over for the man he succeeded in a pair of speeches and to make a political talk on his own behalf.

He will be landing at the John F. Kennedy Memorial Airport at 4:30 p.m. after a 45-minute jet flight from Andrews Air Force Base in Washington.

Tonight and Thursday night Johnson speaks at dinners at which Kennedy would have spoken. The first is for the presentation of awards for contributions in the field of combating mental retardation—Awards given by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation.

The Thursday night affair is a dinner which the American Committee for the Weizmann Institute of Science planned in Kennedy's honor. Now the proceeds of the dinner will go into the establishment of John F. Kennedy Memorial Fellowships at the institute's graduate school in Israel. There will be 46 of these—one for each year Kennedy lived.

In the political appearance Thursday afternoon, Johnson speaks to 400 members of the President's Club, an organization of heavy contributors to the Democratic party war chest.

Plans Offered On Districting

LANSING (AP) — The four Republican members of the State Apportionment Commission today pledged to submit one plan jointly for redistricting the legislature.

Former Gov. Wilbur Brucker, a committee co-chairman and spokesman for the Republicans, signed the letter delivered to the Supreme Court chambers this morning.

"Acting jointly," it said, "we intend to submit a proposed plan of apportionment of the Senate and House."

Tuesday, Ivan Brown, an Iron Mountain Democrat, submitted a plan keyed to maintaining as many existing districts as possible within the new constitution's formula, which gives four times as much emphasis to population as to area.

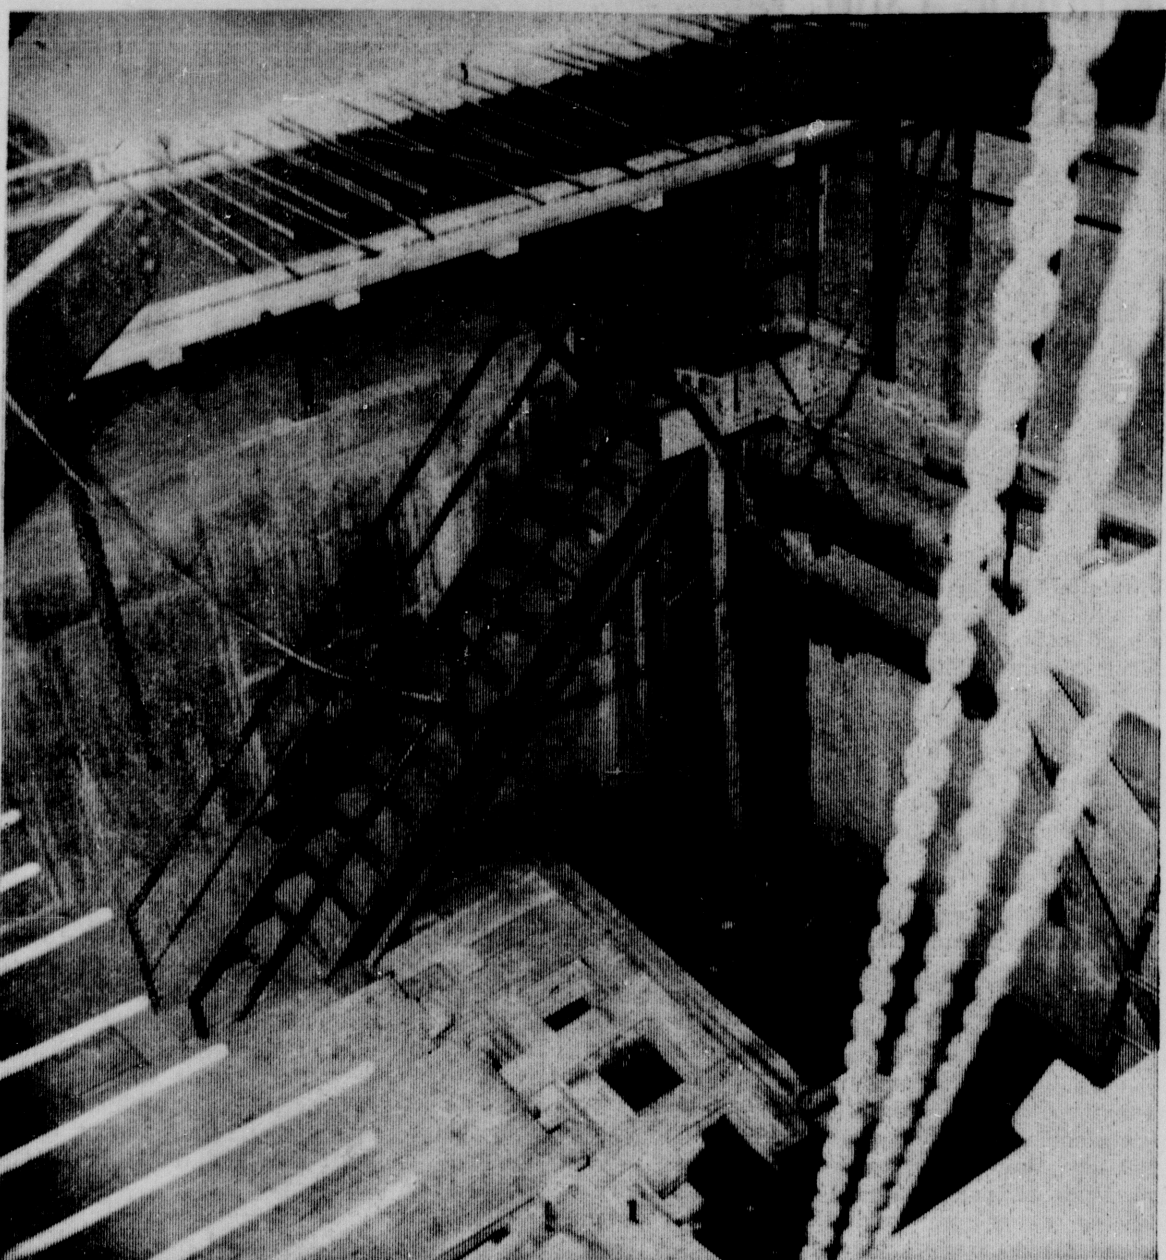

Brown said he also favors another Democrat plan, which he said will be submitted by members A. Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids and Richard Austin of Detroit.

Brucker's letter said the Republican plan will be submitted "as soon as possible to complete it."

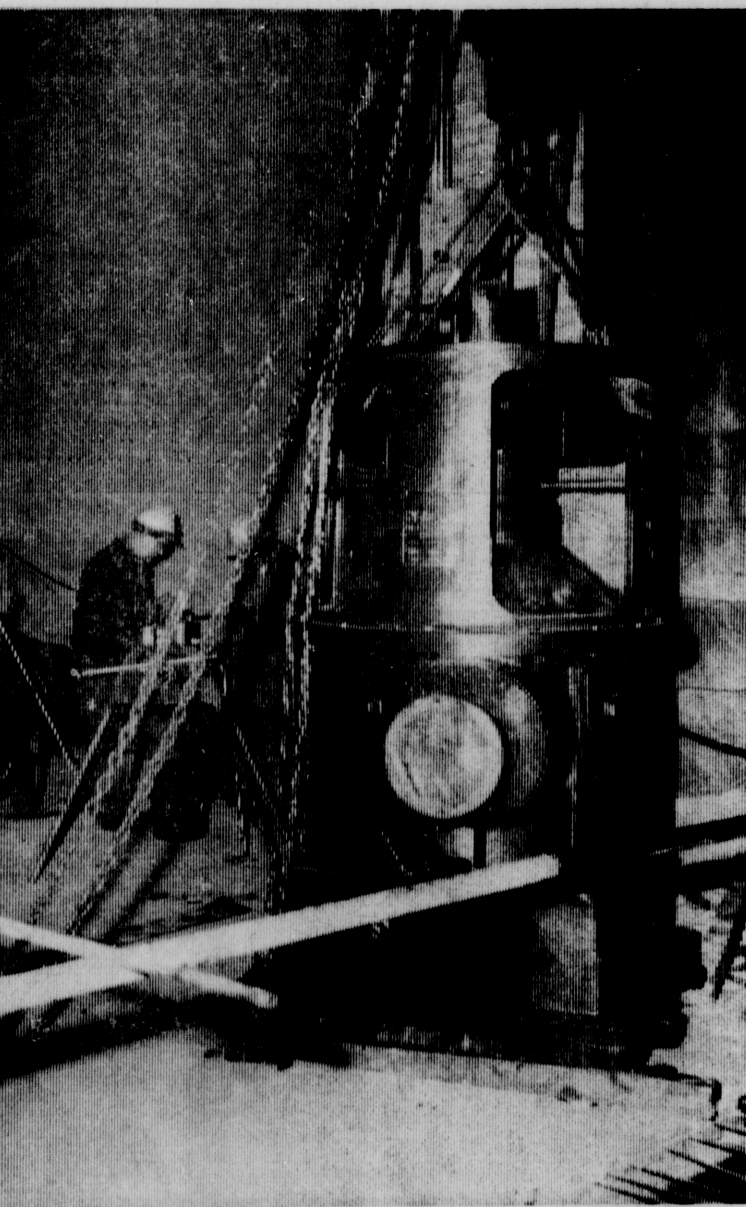

Other Republicans on the commission are William Hanna of Muskegon, Ralph Huhtala of Kingsford, and Alfred LaPorte of Standish.

The eight-man commission stopped trying to agree on a new districting plan Saturday. It told the Supreme Court it could not reach a majority decision and alternative plans would be submitted to the court.

Mead Installs New Hydrapulper

THIS IS THE deep pit in which the new Hydrapulper at the Escanaba Division mill of Mead Corp. is being erected. It required several weeks of blasting in rock by the Erding Arntzen Construction Co. last year to create the opening for the machinery that will slush baled pulp received by the mill so it can be blended with the mill's own pulp production and worked into paper. (Press photos by Bernard Schultz)

MEAD CORP. workmen prepare a converter for installation on a Hydrapulper at the Escanaba Division mill of the corporation at Groos. The mill's second hydrapulper will give it more hydrapulping capacity and reserve facility. The building housing the new Hydrapulper is 46x60 feet and has one metal wall which can be removed for extension of the structure to create warehousing space for baled pulp and other pulping materials.

South Haven Man Gets Prison In Daughter's Death

PAW PAW (AP) — Gordon Antcliff, 36, of South Haven, awaits transfer today to Southern Michigan Prison on a 12 to 15-year term for manslaughter in the death last July of his 6-year-old stepdaughter, Linda.

He was sentenced Tuesday on his earlier plea of guilty before Van Buren Circuit Judge David Anderson.

Authorities said the child died of injuries suffered in a beating. Her mother, Shirley, 25, pleaded guilty to a charge of child neglect in the case and was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

Wisconsin GOP Leader Is Dead

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Thomas E. Coleman, who led the unsuccessful fight of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft for the presidential nomination at the 1952 Republican National Convention, is dead.

Coleman, 70, died of cancer Tuesday at his home in suburban Maple Bluff.

Coleman, president of a Madison industrial firm, began working in the Republican party in the 1928 campaign that elected Walter Kohler Sr. governor of Wisconsin. He was state GOP chairman from 1943 to 1947 and also served as party treasurer.

Dinners Start GOP Campaign

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Republicans will begin turning up for the 1964 campaign this week with a series of statewide Lincoln Day dinners.

A long list of national and state speakers, headed by Gov. George W. Romney and Mrs. Romney, will be out to fire up party workers and raise campaign cash at 39 dinners scheduled before April 2.

The governor is scheduled for 10 speaking appearances and Mrs. Romney for six dates.

Michigan's first family will split forces Thursday night for the first of their speaking engagements. Romney will be at Kalamazoo and Mrs. Romney at Cadillac.

The governor also is scheduled to speak this week at Ontonagon Friday night, at Ironwood Saturday morning and at Houghton Saturday noon. Mrs. Elly Peterson, assistant to the GOP national chairman, will be the speaker at Escanaba Saturday night.

MANISTIQUE

Winkelman Tells Of His Boyhood At Manistique

A story of Isadore W. Winkelman, former Manistique resident, was recently published by the Detroit Free Press. The article by Jean Sharley cited the years Winkelman was in Manistique. He left at age 20. "We're dealing with the only perishable item — fashion. Tomatoes? They can be canned," Winkelman is quoted in the story.

The writer stated Winkelman talked much of the early years in Manistique, when he heaved ice snowballs at partridge in the woods. He says he wishes those "long-ago kids who played with him wouldn't be fearful when they come through Detroit.

Misses Friends

"It kills me inwardly when they don't telephone. My brother and I never stopped talking about the importance of our family and our friends. You have to remember where you are, where you're going."

The brother he mentioned was Leon who died in 1938. The philosophy was that of his father, Moses, who opened the Manistique Department Store in 1892. He believed in "people first and money second, and in tomorrow," the writer pointed out.

"He'd be 101 if he were living. He rarely looked back. He used to get neckties on his birthdays and put them in his zureau drawer. He'd have 25 there. When we'd ask why he kept them, he'd say, 'They're for the suit I'll buy tomorrow.' Winkelman told the interviewer.

He is president of the largest chain of women's fashion stores in the Midwest. His genius for making the right move, placing each store in the right place, has won him national respect, and the high esteem of the men with whom he works at company headquarters, 25 Parsons.

People Important

Retailing is a tough, rough, increasingly competitive business and Winkelman, 62, is a tough, rough opponent. Nobody handed him 44 stores. He can roar Slam doors. Shout out his authority. But the fundamental values persist. Socially he is low-voiced, easy, smiling. People are important to him. He is a rare retailer who does not total the wholesale cost of what you're wearing while shaking your hand. In fact, he doesn't care much what you're wearing," the article notes.

"The happiest years of my life," he is quoted, "were when I sold clothes to customers in the Woodward Ave. men's store. The fellows from Pittman and Dean ice house on Baltimore used to come in. I'd sell them spats, boucle coats with velvet collars and pearl-gray fedoras. 'In the daytime we look like bums,' they'd tell me, 'but at night you dress us up like gentlemen!'"

Winkelman went to Detroit at 20 to open the men's store and had his father co-sign for him. The city was big and it was where he felt most alive. If he'd seen San Francisco first, that's where he'd be today, he says.

It was Winkelman's idea in 1928 to open an elegant fashion store at 5832 W. Front St., a place of Venetian mirrors, thick carpets, Spanish chairs and free smelling salts. He sold Leon.

Next door was a butcher shop with the butchers standing "arm to arm" and women crowded to the counters. After Feb. 25, 1928 the ladies began taking the long way home from the butcher's. The theory of high fashion at good prices and custom, sit-down we'll-serve-you selling blossomed and is still in flower, the writer observed.

Has Five Children

"I. W. clings to the theory that women like to be pampered." Two new Pittsburgh stores using open stock as an experiment will soon go back to the concealed stock method used in the other 42 stores. Women are hungry for service, and tired of doing for themselves, he said.

He used to drop in at neighborhood stores but was too truthful. When salesgirls would say, "Don't you think this coat looks well on Mrs. Smith, Mr. Winkelman?" he says, "No, it don't."

Out of such experiences came the store's intense fashion training program for its sales staff, accompaniment to buying and stock-turnover system that brings new styles in over night and moves them out immediately. He'd like, Winkelman says, to see an even smaller warehouse.

Winkelman has five children, Margo, 23, and married, Jan, 21, Ned 19, Eric 18, and Harriet 13. The boys, all in college, have worked at the store but have no urging by anyone to enter retailing.

"We haven't pushed and they'll be the better for it. Too often parents emotionally try to direct children into business activities and the children become lost. If a Winkelman has ability in the field, God bless him and welcome. If not, there are other people of ability. A business is run on brains, not blood."

"Boom Town"

His wife, Beryl is a former social worker and a graduate of Wayne State University. A charming, soft-voiced woman, she was a widow and mother of three when they married in 1954. They live in her former home, 18684 Birchcrest.

"She introduced me to midnight walking. We're out every night, rain or shine, walking miles. She looks down her nose at fair-weather walkers," he says.

Five hours later, he's up again, ready for work. The two agree it's not easy to rear children who know there's money in the bank. Money for cars. We have only two cars and we all have to share them. The boys aren't going to own cars in college.

"We agree there are things they have to work for and we've never encouraged them to be laying around. There's no security in money. The only securities in life are a sound body and a well-trained mind," he says.

"No matter where we take him, even to the South Seas, he always finds a Winkelman customer," Mrs. Winkelman told the interviewer.

The story was accompanied by a large picture of Mr. Winkelman and another of the four brothers, I. W., Alvin, Leon and Heiman when they knew Manistique as "a boom town."

Wuehle Speaker 'Bosses Night'

School Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle will be guest speaker for the Jaycees annual Bosses Night program Feb. 12 at 7:30 p. m., in Liberty banquet hall. He will speak on school drop-outs. About 35 to 40 members and their employers will attend the annual event, which will feature a fish dinner.

Wuehle is the recipient of outstanding community service award from the Escanaba Jaycees.

He also was winner of the U. P. and Canada region Toastmaster contest and was a delegate to the White House Conference on Youth.

Wuehle is a graduate of Concordia Teachers College in River Forest, Ill., and earned his master's from DePaul at Chicago. He also has studied at Northwestern University in Evanston and audited courses at Wayne University and the University of Chicago.

He was assistant superintendent at Escanaba before coming to Manistique last fall. Previously he was superintendent for Bark River-Harris school for five years, including the period when it issued $500,000 bonds and built a new school. He also taught and or held supervisory positions in St. John's Lutheran church in Ventura, Iowa and Wulz, Mich., Morton Grove, Ill., public schools and Lake Zurich, Ill. public schools.

Wuehle also has been a boys' unit director two years at the summer camp for diabetic and underprivileged children in Lake Geneva, Wis.

He has written articles for both education and non-educational publications, is a past president of the Bark River Lions club and program chairman for Bay de Noc toastmasters.

County Reduces Deficit $9,200

Schoolcraft County reduced its deficit from $17,492.66 in 1962 to $8,279.35 as of Dec. 31, 1963. In addition to reducing the deficit $9,213.31, an additional $12,939.72 in supplemental appropriations were made above budgeted appropriations. Of this $8,939.72 was for the Welfare Department and $4,000 for the Tax Department.

Since 1956, the general fund deficit has been cut yearly, except in 1961, when the county borrowed $25,000 to meet obligations. In 1960 and 1961, the county made $15,000 payments and in 1962, $5,000 to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for welfare department accumulated indebtedness.

This has been accomplished without millage, through a "holding the line" by departments and the Board of Supervisors on deficit spending. William Cowman, treasurer reports. County taxpayers also have paid $150,000 for a new jail and $25,000 for an airport in the past several years.

"If we can ease up on spending and be free of tuberculosis patients as we were this year, we should be able to get the county in the black for the first time in 20 years," Cowman said. The last plus-balance year was 1945, with a $13,506.43 credit.

All other accounts not included in the general fund ended in credit balances except the airport reserve account which showed a deficit balance of $3,353.17. However, the 1964 budget appropriation was set to compensate for this and the county has $703.86 due from the Michigan Department of Aeronautics in matching funds. In addition, the airport committee has requested an additional $1,000 matching funds for the Airport expansion program for 1964. The department is taking the request under advisement.

The county began the year with $17,492.66. Total receipts were $291,580.93. This included fees, refunds and other receipts of $17,904 and tax levies of $172,874 for 1962 and $64,048 on the 1963 levy. Total disbursements and debit transfers were $218,319.20. At the end of the year, $50,000 was transferred to certificates of deposits.

During the year the treasurer's office also disbursed $640,950.40 to schools, townships and the city in handling intangible, sale, swamp and delinquent taxes, Hiawatha forest earning payments, state aid and primary interest funds. Intangible tax to the area totaled $10,833; sales tax payments, $65,789; forest earnings, $6,800; swamp tax, 15 cents per acre, $42,704; delinquent taxes, $45,100; state aid, $389,307 and primary money, $80,391.

Hospital

Announcement is made of the birth of a son Jan. 31 in Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn, to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. LaMourie, Allen Park. The baby is the couple's second child and second son. He weighed 6 pounds, 12 ounces and has been named Paul Christopher. Mrs. LaMourie is the former Mary Catherine Vezina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Vezina, 543 Oak. The baby's father is a son of Mrs. Omer LaMourie, Weston Ave.

Hospital Auxiliary Will Obtain Funds From 'Mary Mary'

The Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital will derive 50 per cent of the profits from advance sales of tickets for the show, "Mary, Mary" to be shown Saturday and Sunday at the Oak Theatre. Tickets may be obtained at Brault's or Diner's.

Obituary

AGNES GOUDREAU
Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m., Thursday in St. Francis de Sales Church for Agnes Goudreau, retired school teacher who died Monday in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. Liturgical prayers will be recited at 7:30 p. m., today at Kefauver & Jackson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Big Sturgeon Speared By Barber

Cliff Barber, 330 Schoolcraft Ave., caught a 5-foot, 71-pound sturgeon Saturday afternoon at Indian Lake. He speared the opening day catch while young Robert Hinkson was along with him. The two had gone to the lake "just for fun" and were elated with the catch.

Hospital Raises Rates; Makes Laundry Change

Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital has raised its rates for semi-private rooms from $14 to $15 per day effective Feb. 1. The hospital, J. Mauritz Carlson, trustee chairman said, has been operating at a financial "break-even" point and improvement is needed to afford remodeling of the laundry, as required by the Michigan Department of Health and other changes.

These include remodeling and expansion to provide relief for congestion of storage rooms, central supply, clinical laboratory and x-ray departments. A new incinerator is also needed.

The hospital has been operating with the same laundry facilities it had when built in 1950. It had 32 patient rooms then and this has now been increased to 55. The equipment is badly worn and must be replaced, Carlson noted.

The project will mark continued efforts by the hospital to maintain standards set by the Michigan Department of Health. The rate increase is the first since 1959, he said.

Charlene Mercier Bride At Garden

A double ring ceremony in St. John the Baptist Catholic Church, Garden, at 10 a. m., Saturday, Jan. 18, united in marriage Miss Charlene Ann Mercier of Garden and Joel Norris Thormondsgaard of Canton. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Terrence Donnelly. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Mercier of Garden and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Thormondsgaard of Canton.

The bride wore a full length gown of white lace and carried red roses. Attending the bride was her sister, Noreen Mercier and Mary Thormondsgaard, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Marlene Sundling, sister of the bride and Mary Jean Clifton. Attending the bridegroom were Don Daigle, Pete Tollinger, Jim Garvin and Eldon Mercier. Wayne Thormondsgaard and Romain Larsgaard served as ushers. Bonnie Mercier served as flower girl and Rodney LaTulip was ring bearer.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the community hall of Garden. The bridegroom is a 1961 graduate of Canton High School and has served in the Air Force two

German Melodies In School Bands' Concert Tonight

The junior and senior bands of Manistique High School — 120 students strong, will present a free concert at 7:30 p. m., today (Wednesday) in the MHS auditorium. Parents are encouraged to bring all the family.

A variety of music will be included in the program, such as marches, overtures and reflective compositions. Susan Orhanen is soloist for a polka number. Also included is a group of German melodies. One faculty member has said each time she hears the German selections, she feels like "breaking out in song." Director J. L. Giovannini said those who feel like "breaking out in song," may do so.

Hospital

Discharged from Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital are James LeMaster, Rte. 1; Hannelore Patrick, 315 Center; Ethel McLean, 103 Arbutus; and Evelyn Sefcik, Nahma.

Ann Landers

'Slim' Now Like Stuffed Sausage

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is 36 years old and 35 pounds overweight. When I married Gordon 11 years ago he was actually skinny. In fact his nickname was "Slim."

New Year's Eve Gordon put on his tuxedo for the first time in four years and he looked like a stuffed sausage. He was unable to button the trousers and had to use a large safety pin. If the cummerbund had not been adjustable he could not have worn the tux at all.

When I mentioned exercise to Gordon he triumphantly pointed out that in the past five years three of his close friends who were athletes in college had died of heart attacks. He also gave me chapter and verse on nationally famous sports figures who suffered heart attacks at an early age.

If exercise is so good for people (as I know it must be) why do so many athletes die young?—NAGGING NELLIE

Dear Nell: The athletes who drop dead are usually the ones who trained vigorously during their adolescent and post-adolescent years and then quit.

Any physician will tell you that moderate, regular, and frequent exercise is very good for middle-aged people. This does not mean an hour of handball or three sets of tennis once a week under a blazing sun—particularly for the man who has sat in the spectator stands during his younger years.

You tell Gordon for me that more people die from over-exercising than from over-exercising. And the best exercise of all is pushing one's self away from the table.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a middle-aged woman, not a giddy teen-ager, so please bear this in mind when you respond to my inquiry.

The man I am dating asked me what I would like for Valentine's Day. He then quoted a maximum figure of how much he would spend.

In all my life I was never so astonished. Since he has not the gift on such a crass basis I am not at all sure I want anything from him for Valentine's Day—or any other day, for that matter.

Am I mistaken or did the gentleman show very poor taste?—NO GOLD DIGGER

Dear No Gold: Obviously the gentleman is vastly more practical than romantic. And he wanted to make sure his gift to you is something you can use and he can afford.

In my opinion he said it awkwardly, but the offer was better than a poke in the eye with a sharp stick.

Dear Ann Landers: All we need from you is a yes or a no. The question I am about to pose has been chewed back and forth in our bridge club for several weeks. The ladies are evenly divided. Here is the question:

Do you approve or disapprove of young male children (aged 5 to 11 years) dancing with their mother, an aunt or other adults on a hotel or night club dance floor? We'd also like to know your reasons.

Thank you.—BRIDGETTES
Dear Bridgettes: My answer is based strictly on personal opinion and has nothing to do with right or wrong, correct or incorrect. I do not like to see little kids on a public dance floor—dancing with adults or with each other. Young children are out of place in such an environment. They look like midgets.

Ann Landers' frank and informative new book, "Teen-Agers And Sex" ($2.95), is now available at your book store.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

4-H Leaders Of Two Counties Attend Workshop

A number of Delta and Menominee county 4-H leaders attended a demonstration workshop at the Bark River-Harris Elementary School on Friday afternoon.

The workshop, conducted by Miss Amalie Vasold, program specialist, from the State 4-H Office, was designed to give the leaders training for helping 4-Hers in demonstration work. The many phases of giving demonstrations were pointed out and instructions given on how to work out each.

Leaders attending from Delta County included Mrs. Ahti Waak and Mrs. Albert Weldum from Rock; Mrs. Robert Groos and Mrs. James Farrell, Flat Rock; Mrs. Clarence Dittich, Hyde; Mrs. Raymond LaMarche, Danforth; Mrs. Lloyd Sundberg, Ensign; Mrs. Stanley Meyers, Bark River and Larry Bradford, county extension agent, 4-H.

Newberry

Mrs. Minnie Ida Mattson is at Little Traverse Hospital where she expects to undergo surgery.

Application for a marriage license was made by Shirley Fahler Royster and Kenny Bowling, both of Newberry.

St. Ann's Altar Society of St. Gregory's Church will meet at 8 p. m., Thursday in the parish hall.

Friends of Claude McLean of Grand Marais (formerly of Newberry) can reach him at the Veterans' Hospital in Iron Mountain where he is receiving medical attention.

Patients admitted to the Tahquamenon General Hospital over the weekend include: Wesley Granger, Pamela Kitchen, Fred Norman, Frank Szot, Mark Campbell, James Conley, Helen Berry, Ethel Young, Penny Collins, Paul Lahti, Sylvia Skeans, Harriet Fetterhoff and Helen Nester.

The February meeting of Hiawathaland Law Enforcement Officers will be held Wednesday, Feb. 5, at Holiday Inn at Defer.

Mrs. Ethel Young was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette, Sunday for treatment, after having sustained a broken arm following a fall at home.

Audrey Hepburn Is A Model Of Charm

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Audrey Hepburn is loaded with charm, an essential quality of popular women, and an ingredient that all young girls should cultivate.

When she dropped by a luncheon table for a few minutes, recently, it was like having a good friend you haven't seen for ages drop in for a warming cup of tea.

She is friendly, chatty, interesting, down-to-earth, feminine and intelligent, and above all, she isn't impressed with her importance. She has enthusiasm for everything.

She loves her work and it oozes out in great gushes of conversation but as she points out, "I guess you might say that I make movies the way some people collect postage stamps. There's one going on all the time."

It's that good humored attitude that is praised by all the stars with whom she has worked. Jim Garner has described her as "a wonderful person," and Cary Grant has said she is "thoroughly delightful." Her last picture "Charade" was with him.

Eager To Go Home
Being away from her home in Switzerland from time to time is a necessary part of her job, but she is always eager to get home, she says, especially for a holiday occasion. Rubbing her hands together in a gleeful ful little-girl way, she says, "I like to get there in time to make sure there is going to be a big turkey in the ice box."

Three little books she has bought for Sean, her 3½-year-old son, are the "tiny little books they have for a small child now that are simply wonderful for developing imagination," she explains. She and her husband Mel Ferrer think books for young children today are so beautiful they should be able to look at them often, "so we built him a low bookcase that he can reach himself," she says, beaming.

She dresses her brown hair in a casual gamin but ladylike hairdo—bangs across the forehead, and hair swept up the back. Her white hat is a favorite chignon style, rounded and higher than a pillbox. Her brown eyes are huge, framed in a heavy, natural fringe. She wears makeup so well that you get the impression she isn't wearing it at all.

Has Skin Problems
The simple sleeveless black dress she was wearing revealed boyish, slender arms with a small bit of muscle that probably developed when she was a ballet dancer in Holland where she lived as a child. She was born in Brussels of an Irish-English father and Dutch mother. She plays piano.

"My skin suffers terribly from movie makeup that I wear from morning until night when making movies. I am fighting problems all the time, and when a movie is over I am a mass of blemishes. Different climates create problems too, like the 90 degree humidity of Africa," she explains.

After each movie she has skin treatments and these help get her skin back to normal. "And usually I can relax for a little while, skating and skiing, and that helps too," she says.

Child Welfare Club Charity Ball Saturday

An outstanding social event of the pre-Lenten season is the Gladstone Child's Welfare Club annual Charity Ball which will be held Saturday, Feb. 8 at the Dells Supper Club.

The public is invited to attend

Wells

Bowling Party

Fourteen girls from St. Anthony's Junior Choir enjoyed a bowling party Sunday afternoon at the Holiday Bowl. Fr. Norbert Freiburger took the girls in the bus and Mrs. Kenneth Arbour and Mrs. William Webster accompanied the group.

Scout Meeting

Wells Boy Scout Troop 407 will meet at St. Anthony's Hall at 7 p. m., today. All boys are asked to attend to prepare for the Klondike Derby to be held in Gladstone Saturday.

Pre-Lenten Party

St. Anthony's Guild and the Holy Name Society will hold a pre-Lenten party at the parish hall Sunday from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight. A potluck supper will be served and women are asked to contact their circle chairman for information. The men are in charge of the entertainment. All members of the parish are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Casey and Mrs. William Casey left today for Green Bay where Mr. Casey will have treatment at a Green Bay hospital.

the party, held to earn funds to finance the charitable activities of the organization.

The committee members, with Mrs. James Johnson, chairman, and Mrs. N. Reuben Sjoquist, assisting chairman, have planned a Mardi Gras theme for the ball. The customary midnight buffet supper will be served.

Mrs. James Walker, ticket chairman, urges all who are planning to attend to purchase their tickets as soon as possible.

They may be obtained from any member of her committee, Mesdames George Keldsen, Donald Anderson, Elov Kinnie, Ed Miller, Robert Snyder, Ed Stevens, C. L. Stock, B. H. Skellenger, Arthur Franklin, Irving DeRoock, Albin Rajala, Raymond Menard and Ellis Movalson.

In Escanaba tickets may be obtained at Gust Asp's or Gartner's. They also will be available at the door the night of the ball.

Newcomers' Club Party Saturday

Plans are complete for the Escanaba Welcome Wagon Newcomers' Club annual valentine bridge luncheon which will be held Saturday, Feb. 8, at 1 p. m. at the House of Ludington. Attractive prizes will be awarded in the card games. Tickets may be purchased at Gust Asp's or Gartner's up to Thursday, Feb. 6, at 5 p. m. All members and friends of Newcomers are invited.

Insurance Firm To Stress Retirement

DETROIT—A plan for individuals to build retirement income is a reason for formation of Michigan's newest insurance firm, the National Retirement Insurance Co. The firm will be the first insurance company to establish headquarters in Dearborn. It will be located at 3244 Wyoming Ave.

Jack Valian, president, said the company will concentrate its efforts on the sale of a retirement income plan, geared to an educational program for reaching average income groups first, and broadening to include others later.

The company is offering 287,500 common shares at $5 a share. Walston & Co., Detroit, are the finders of the stock issue, made available Feb. 4. The incorporators have purchased 12,500 shares of common stock for a total investment of $62,500. The offering of common shares will net the firm $1,284,375 operating capital.

Escanabans Join Swedish Club In Chicago Singfest

An Escanaba sing fest was staged Jan. 31 at the Swedish Engineers Society clubhouse at 503 Wrightwood Ave., at the Chicago. Former Escanabans joined hands with the Swedish Engineers in their weekly fish fry and "Sing Along" program with Genevieve Wilson at the piano.

Ted Anderson, EHS 1923, past president of the Swedish Engineers, Chicago; and Austin Stromberg, EHS 1909, reminded club members and guests of the big Escanaba Night prelude of the Escanaba Centennial held April 6, 1963, when a capacity crowd of 300 nearly swamped the club and paid tribute to Escanaba's big century celebration.

Stromberg introduced six members of the Escanaba Night committee, Ted Anderson, EHS 1923; Atty. Richard Baldwin, EHS 1921; Olaf Olson, EHS 1909; Lucille Ranguette, EHS 1923; Ruth Hogan, EHS 1933, and Linnea Sundquist, EHS 1933.

Oldest Escanaban present was Walter Jackson, 83, ex-Escanaba tailor, who with his brother, John Jackson, are staunch Escanaba boosters. Other Escanabans in attendance were: Marguerite Nelson Baumgartner, Rose Marie Sanders Bolt, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Christensen; Blanch Carr; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Knutson; and Lillian Stromberg Pope, and her husband, William Pope.

Announcement was made at the meeting of a 1964 European holiday tour sponsored by the Chicago Swedish Engineers, leaving Chicago Aug. 4 and returning Aug. 25. Earl Viking is tour manager. Escanabans are eligible.

The Escanaba Eskimos will make their final home start of the season Friday night against Manistique as Coach Harold Johnson shoots for his 100th victory at the Eskey post. The end of the regular season is rapidly approaching. For the Eskimos, the campaign will close with two road trips, to Negaunee Feb. 14 and Stephenson Feb. 25.

Escanaba has been awarded the Class A district tournament in which the Eskimos, Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie and Menominee will compete for the right to advance to a regional tournament at Grand Rapids. Drawings for the district tourney will be held at the Escanaba gym on Tuesday, Feb. 25, at 9:30 a.m. Tournament games will be played March 4, 5 and 7.

Parents of Escanaba High School basketball players will be honored by the Eskimo Fan Club at the game here Friday night. They will be introduced prior to the game and will be guests at a coffee hour following the contest.

Coach Vic Fochesato's Norway Vikings broke their eight game losing string in the Menominee Range conference by defeating Iron River 68-58 behind Ron Warner's 24 point scoring performance.

A field goal by John Fallon with five seconds remaining gave the Gwinn Model Towners a 70-68 decision over Houghton, defending Upper Peninsula Class C champion. Fallon led Gwinn with 21 points while Jon Fryxell paced Houghton with 26.

Coach Warren (Whitey) Wilson's Calumet Copper Kings ran up an 89-67 verdict over Dollar Bay in Copper Country action. Five Calumet players scored in double figures as Wilson used all 15 cagers on his squad.

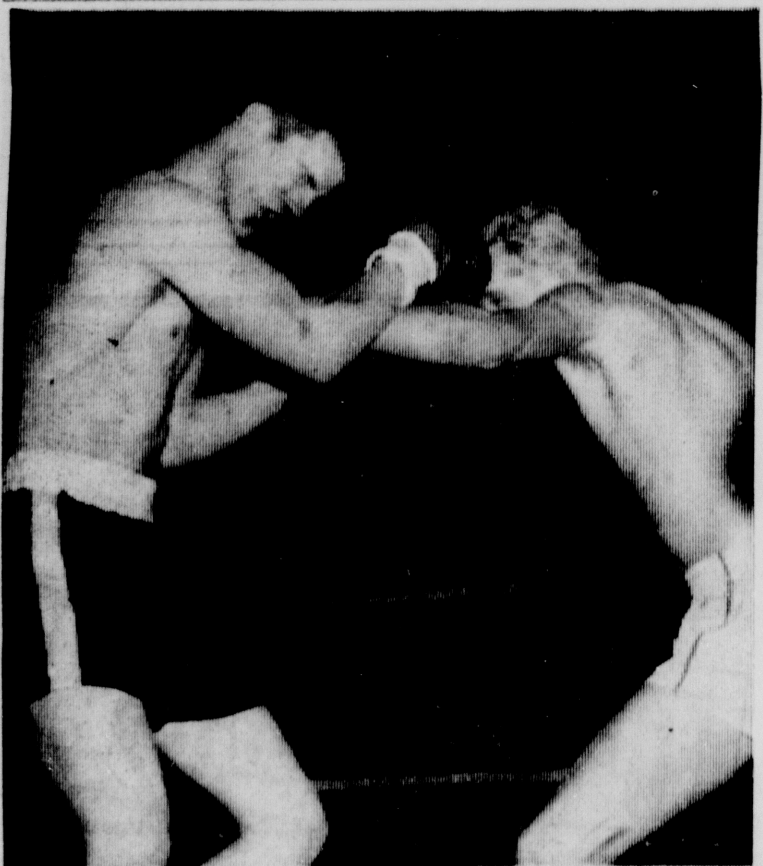

Ontonagon rallied from a 40-38 deficit in the fourth quarter to beat L'Anse 64-53 as Larry Makimaa scored eight points in the final two minutes of the game.

Wakefield took over first place in the Michigan-Wisconsin conference race with a 79-47 victory over Bessemer while Ashland was clipping Superior East 77-74. Ashland was outscored by six field goals but made 17 of 26 free throws while Superior converted two of nine.

After bowing to St. Norbert 96-80, the Michigan Tech Huskies will be idle until Friday, Feb. 14, when they host Northland College. Former Eskymo John Olson scored eight points against St. Norbert.

After an uphill battle in which they tied the score at 57-57, Coach Stu Smith's Crystal Falls Trojans failed to score a point in the final two minutes of action and bowed to Kingsford 62-57. The Flivvers have an 8-1 record at the top of the Menominee Range conference with three games to go.

Rudyard's defending U.P. Class B champs whipped St. Ignace 85-43 this week as Ron Hintz, back in action after a bout with the mumps, scored 33 points, his best single game production of the season. The victory was the ninth against one defeat for Coach Bill Howe's cagers.

RON LINDSTROM, right, Escanaba lightweight, sticks a damaging left hand to the face of Sid Beaudou of Menominee in their novice fight in the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournament here last Saturday. Lindstrom staved off a furious start by Beaudou, scored a knockdown in the third round and won an impressive victory. He will return to action in the championship bouts Saturday night at the Holy Name gym. (Daily Press Photo)

Northern Upsets Central Quintet

By The Associated Press

Assumption College has changed its name to the University of Windsor, Ont., but it didn't fool Detroit's basketball Titans Tuesday night.

Detroit won easily, 101-82, for the 24th straight time dating back to the mid 1930's.

In other college games last night Northern Michigan bombed Central Michigan, 75-46; Northwood Institute swamped Detroit Tech, 91-52; Youngstown, Ohio, defeated visiting Lawrence Tech, 83-75; and Alpena Junior College dumped Soo Tech, 84-77.

Guard Al Cech scored a career high of 29 points in Detroit's triumph over Windsor. The Titans jumped to a 47-35 halftime margin and stayed at least 12 points in front the rest of the way. Dick Dzick and Dorrie Murrey each added 19 points, but high point honors went to Windsor's Bob Horvath, who netted 35 points.

The victory was Detroit's 10th in 18 games this year. Windsor, including two losses to the Titans, stands 14-4.

Northern's 6-foot-5 center Dave Cade scored 22 points to lead his club past Central in a mid-upset. The victory was Northern's 10th against six losses. Dave Nelson canned 16 points to pace Central which lost its fourth game after 10 triumphs.

Youngstown scored its 17th victory in 18 games behind Fred Joneses 18 points. Jerry had 22 for Lawrence Tech which stands 10-12.

Don Mercer and Jerry Pettway powered Northwood past Detroit Tech. Mercer notched 26 points, and Pettway 24, as Northwood won its 11th game in 16 tries. Detroit DIT, now 5-12, got 17 points from Roland Terry.

Alpena ran up a 43-35 halftime margin behind Jim Kurtz' 24 points in downing Soo Tech. The loss was Soo's 5th against 11 victories. The losers' Stan Ojala was high for the game with 32 points.

Crusaders Get Revenge; Edge Menominee, 55-53

The Holy Name Crusaders gained revenge for one of their three defeats this season by edging the Menominee Maroons 55-53 here Tuesday night.

Holy Name carded its 10th triumph of the campaign in spite of a rash of floor mistakes that kept them in a hole throughout all but the final seconds of the first half. The lead changed hands seven times in the hectic second half.

It was anybody's ball game in the closing seconds as Menominee gained possession on an offensive foul with seven seconds remaining. The Maroons never got off a shot, however, as a poor pass led to a tangle on the floor and a jump ball between Jim Micheau and Bill Schwanz of the Maroons. The final buzzer sounded a second after the jump.

The Crusaders needed a spirited rally early in the second quarter to get back in the game after they trailed by 10 points, 21-11. Coach John Butrymowicz's cagers turned on a tight press to put the stoppers on Menominee's offense while Frank Stupak, Mike LeFleur and Ben Yagodzinski chalked up nine straight points to narrow their deficit to 21-20.

A field goal by Stupak with two seconds remaining in the half gave Holy Name a 30-29 edge, the first for the Crusaders since Clarence Ehlers scored the first field goal of the game.

Rockets Spill Broncos 65-59

BARK RIVER - HARRIS—Coach C. B. Roels' Bark River-Harris Broncos turned in their best game of the season here Tuesday night but it wasn't good enough as Rapid River scored a 65-59 Central League victory.

After trailing through the game, the Broncos narrowed their deficit to one point midway in the fourth quarter. The Rockets flipped in a pair of quick field goals to regain their margin in the stretch.

Sophomore Pat Larrabee of Rapid River took individual scoring honors for the night with 17 points.

Bark River had four players in double figures, including 10 points by Pat Sagataw, a freshman.

Rapid River won the jayvee game 61-44.

Warriors Rip Piston Quint

San Francisco settled into the Western Division driver's seat Tuesday night with a 39-point National Basketball Association rout of Detroit's sluggish Pistons.

The Warriors — with East Coast assists from Boston and Cincinnati — opened their newly-acquired Western spread to a full game and now loom as a genuine threat to nail their first division crown since moving West two years ago. Their 118-79 margin over Detroit was their biggest point spread this season.

St. Louis dropped a 113-101 decision to the Celtics in the opener of a New York double-header and trails San Francisco by one game. Los Angeles, punchless without scoring star Jerry West, was ripped by the Royals 118-100 and fell 1 1/2 games off the pace. In the New York nightcap, Baltimore beat the Knickerbockers 137-134 in overtime.

Wilt Chamberlain paced the Warriors with 38 points but it was San Francisco's defense that buried the Pistons. Detroit scored only 11 points in the opening period and was limited to 18 in the final 12 minutes.

It was tight through the third period as the Maroons out-rebounded the taller Crusaders. Holy Name's fast break attack failed to click and the Crusaders had trouble hitting from outside. A three-point play by Menominee's Tom Barley gave the Maroons a 42-40 lead at the close of the third period.

A sudden scoring spurt gave Holy Name a 52-47 lead with two and a half minutes remaining and the Maroons were unable to catch up.

Micheau was a big factor in the stretch for the Crusaders, hitting four field goals to set the pace in the fourth quarter.

Ben Yagodzinski topped Holy Name's scorers with 14 points while Walt Veldman hit 11. Jim Uecke of the Maroons took individual honors for the night with 18.

Outscored by four field goals, the Crusaders won from the free throw line where they cashed in on 15 of 25 chances. The Maroons made nine trips to the line and picked up five points.

Holy Name will be idle until Friday, Feb. 14, when the Crusaders travel to Gwinn.

Holy Name won the jayvee preliminary game 66-52.

Eben Defeats Champion '5'

EBEN—Coach Jim Depew's Eben Eagles got back in the victory column here Tuesday night with a 71-59 non-league triumph over Champion.

The decision boosted Eben's season record to 12-2 entering the Central League battle at Trenary Friday night.

The Eagles moved to an 18-14 lead in the first period and came alive in the second with the appearance of Andy Freberg, hobbled by an ankle injury.

Three Eagles reached double scoring figures, headed by Bill Carlson who tallied 21 points, dominated the boards and blocked a half-dozen Champion shots.

Coach Fred Boddy also had three double digit scorers on the Champion team. Bill Wiljanen hit on 50 per cent of his shots for 22 points to take individual honors for the night. Eben won the preliminary game, beating Munising's freshmen 51-17.

Cooks Whips Grand Marais

COOKS — Phil Hartman led a well balanced Cooks scoring attack with 26 points here Tuesday night as Coach Norman Jahn's Clippers trimmed Grand Marais 64-41.

The triumph was Cooks third in the last five games and averaged a 54-48 defeat suffered at Grand Marais on Jan. 17.

Dave Hill, a 5 foot, 8 inch jumping jack, controlled the boards for the Clippers and chipped in 11 points. Larry Swagart tallied 11 and Bruce Swagart, a freshman, added 10. Hartman is a sophomore.

Soo Tops Emeralds To Take GLC Lead

SAULT STE. MARIE—The Manistique Emeralds fell victim to Soo's devastating press here Tuesday night and bowed to the Blue Devils 78-59.

The youthful Emeralds missed a golden opportunity to shake up the Great Lakes Conference standings. They entered the game deadlocked for first place with the Blue Devils.

Manistique now faces another tough foe Friday night when the Emeralds invade Escanaba. Soo gets a breather with a game against the Newberry Indians who have won only one start this season.

Coach Clair Wilhelm's Soo cagers bolted for a 7-3 lead early in the first period and kept pulling away for an 18-11 cushion at the end of the quarter.

Their press caused the Emeralds to lose the ball on bad passes and floor faults and the Blue Devils increased their margin to 39-21 at the half.

Manistique steadied in the third period and whittled away at the deficit. At one stage in the fourth quarter Coach Rudie Brandstrom's cagers had the gap cut to 10 points, but they couldn't maintain the pace.

In addition to an advantage of six field goals, the Blue Devils pumped in 20 of 31 free throw attempts off 17 Manistique personal fouls. The Emeralds connected on 13 of 19 opportunities from the line.

Soo had three players in double figures, headed by Dennis Porter with 20 points.

Eric Blomquist paced three Emeralds in double figures with 13 points. Tom Brawley had 12 and Jon Cameron 10.

Manistique notched a 57-45 triumph in the jayvee preliminary game.

Talented Carney Captures 14th Victory In Row

PERKINS—The tall and talented Carney Wolves ran their basketball victory string to 14 games here Tuesday with a steady stream of buckets to sideline Perkins 93-78.

Although Coach Joe Vestich's Yellowjackets reached their season scoring peak, they were no match for the classy Carney cagers.

Perkins kept pace through the early minutes of action and matched the Wolves point for point until the score was 8-8. Carney then began pulling steadily away and had a 29-19 cushion at the end of the first quarter.

It was the same story in the second quarter as Coach Bob Kuntze's Wolves added another 10 points to their margin to lead 56-36 at the halfway mark.

The two quints split 51 points in a fast moving third period and Perkins outscored Carney 17-11 in the final quarter.

Carney put on a fabulous shooting exhibition for fans here last night. The Wolves connected on 22 of 37 field goal attempts in the first half and they crammed in 21 of 28 free throw opportunities in the game.

Carney dominated the rebounding and had three players with 20 or more points, paced by Jim Haight with 26. Mike Moran added 22 and Cliff Perras 20.

Perkins had four players in double figures in their season's top scoring performance. Jim Branstrom tallied 22, Len Eagle 16, Gary Robbins 14 and Steve Simonsen 11.

Carney, highest scoring team in the Upper Peninsula, reached the 90's for the fourth time this season. The Wolves have hit the century mark twice.

Draft Choices Please Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Despite the loss of three high draft choices, the Green Bay Packers are pleased with the results in their bidding war with clubs in the rival American Football League.

"We thought from the outset we had a good draft, but now it looks even better to us," Pat Peppier, the Packers' chief talent scout, said today. "We are real pleased right now."

The Packers, dethroned last season after a two-year rule as National Football League champions, had 23 choices in the NFL draft last December. They signed 10, lost four to the AFL and are waiting for six to complete competition in other college sports. The other six were picked as junior eligibles.

Rookie Goalie To Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League are sending rookie goalie Roger Crozier to the Pittsburgh Hornets.

The Hornets said the move was arranged because Pittsburgh goalie Hank Bassen is sidelined with torn ligaments in his right leg.

Meanwhile, Red Wing coach Sid Abel moved forward Larry Jeffrey to Norm Ullman's line and switched forward Andre Pronovost to the line with Pit Martin and Bruce MacGregor in preparation for tonight's game with Chicago.

The two left wingers have not been on the scoring list since the Jan. 9 victory over Chicago — ten games ago. Both Jeffrey and Pronovost have only six goals this season.

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Villanova basketball Coach Jack Kraft is not so sure the university's student body isn't prophetic.

Ever since the season started, the Villanova cheering section has been screaming:

"We're No. 1! We're No. 1!"

Villanova's first team currently is No. 6 in The Associated Press poll. How does Kraft feel about this?

"The 42-year-old Kraft — only three seasons out of high school coaching rank — minces no words:

"I think we have a good enough club on any given night to beat anyone in the country. Yes, I think we have a good chance to win the national championship. Maybe the kids are right—we are No. 1."

Villanova has won 16—including nine of 10 on the road—and lost but one, boosting Kraft's over-all college record to 56-18. The Wildcats from Philadelphia's main line won the Holiday Festival in New York over Minnesota.

Should Villanova get to the NCAA tournament — and that's what they're gunning for—Kraft is confident that 1962 won't be repeated. That year, the Wildcats were eliminated in the Eastern Regional final by Wake Forest.

Kraft isn't bragging. He's not the type. But he's no shrinking violet either. He has a fine basketball team and admits it could be the club to return college basketball supremacy to the East for the first time since La Salle.

Joe Archer Eyes Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Archer was a mauling club fighter in his day. Every fight was a war. Take two to land one. That was the way he fought. It was like that in the gym when he boxed his kid brother, Joey.

Those days are gone. Now Jimmy 26, is the manager and Joey, 26, is the fighter, a combination that is not unique but by no means common in the fight business. Joey is just the opposite type, a skillful boxer with good moves.

Joey is working his way toward a middleweight title bout — he hopes — with Joey Giardello. His 38-1 record has earned him No. 2 ranking by both the World Boxing Association and Ring magazine. Joey risks his chances for a Giardello bout Friday night in a Madison Square Garden match with Holy Mims, a 35-year-old veteran of almost 100 fights.

"The Garden has offered Giardello $100,000 to fight Joey," Jimmy said today. "I understand he wants a couple of nontitle fights first before his six months run out. I asked him at the Boxing Writers dinner if he wanted to fight Joey a nontitle bout, but he wasn't interested."

Whatever happens to Joey the money should stay in the family. He won't be thrown in over his head. After all, his manager loves him like a brother.

Wichita Defeats Loyola Champs

By The Associated Press

Is anybody going to beat the Wichita Wheatshockers in college basketball in 1964? Right now the answer seems to be "no."

The Shockers scored their 11th straight and 15th in their last 16 games by defeating Chicago Loyola 65-60 Tuesday night.

True, the Shockers have lost three games, but all three were in December. Since their Dec. 21 setback by Ohio State, all their games have been on the right side of the ledger to make their over-all record 17-3 with six regular season games left.

In defeating the defending national collegiate champions for the second time this season, the Shockers delighted a home town turnout of 10,723.

Pairing the fourth-ranked Shockers and the ninth-ranked Ramblers in this week's Associated Press poll the game topped Tuesday's national collegiate program.

Mud Churned Up In Central Ohio

MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—A lot of mud is being churned up in central Ohio these days. But no one seems to mind, because this churning brings up oil about one time in every four tries.

It began in Morrow County. Three wells (two successful) were drilled in 1959. But the oil boom didn't really get under way for a couple more years.

Now: "This is the hottest thing in the United States," says Bill D. Vaught, a 30-year-old Texan who has brought in two wells in three times.

First 104 Years Ago
Oil wells have been drilled in Ohio before. The first was in Southeastern Ohio 104 years ago. In 1896 the state produced 23,941,000 barrels. Less than a fourth of that has been produced in recent years, but predictions for Morrow County this year range up to 6 million barrels. Nearly 100 wells are producing in the area.

The wells can be seen in farm fields and backyards, around cemeteries and even on home-plate of what was a schoolyard baseball diamond in the village of Edison.

Estimates of daily production (at $2.92 a barrel) vary from 17,000 to 22,000 barrels.

This has meant some home-work for state officials in Columbus, 45 minutes by highway to the south. Ohio has had set up few regulations about drilling.

During a five-day session in December, the legislature ordered a study and authorized the State Mines Division to set up any rules it feels necessary. Some think the proposed rules will include a ban on more than one well for any 10-acre area.

Waste Indicated
More and more talk is being heard about possible oil waste from bunching too many wells.

Recently a well was brought in northeast of Morrow County. This has led to speculation that the oil field may extend beneath two, three or more counties.

Drilling one well costs an estimated $15,000 to $20,000, with perhaps $20,000 more needed to move into full production. Among the many out-of-state cars seen here are those belonging to financial backers for drillers.

Sightseers jam the county's two-lane roads on weekends to see the towering drilling masts, rotary and cable tool drill rigs, and other equipment. Three crews usually work 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Village Has Boom

In this community a 140-year-old village of 2,788 and county seat, much conversation is on oil. Almost every other passer-by seems to be carrying a map. Deals are made everywhere.

Not all of the nearly 2,000 oil men who have poured in stay in Mount Gilead. But what space there has been in the area—offices, homes for rent or sale, rooms, hotels—is pretty well taken up.

Sales tax receipts are way up. Some officials think tax and sales figures will reflect the boom even more in the future.

Some distrust between land-owners and oil men seeking leases is evident. Growing experience in the oil business has led some landholders to demand more than the usual one-eighth share of possible profits for a lease.

Ashland Oil & Refining Co. is buying or producing nearly 90 per cent of the field's output.

Estimates of the field's future range from a couple of years to two decades or more.

TWO ABOUT RUSSIA

NEW YORK (AP)—Two plays about the Soviet Union are on Broadway's spring schedule.

Due first is Paddy Chayefsky's "The Passion of Josef D." concerned with the early party days of Stalin. The second project is Henry Denker's "The Sound of Distant Thunder." Its theme concerns a present-day commissar who suddenly becomes aware of deep-seated personal opposition to the Red establishment.

Ford Sets New High In Sales

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT (AP)—A booming fourth quarter helped Ford Motor Co. set new record high sales and profits last year.

This was disclosed Tuesday in Ford's 1963 financial statement which showed that, like General Motors, it never had it so good.

Ford reported net income of $488.5 million, equal to $4.42 a share last year. It bettered the old marks of $480.7 million and $4.36 set in 1962.

The Ford report came less than a week after GM announced it made $1,592 billion, or $5.56 a share last year. It was the biggest return ever earned by any company.

Ford's report, as did GM's, reflected the current healthy condition of the auto industry which last year, for the second time in a row, chalked up sales of over seven million units in the U. S. market.

Chrysler, third of the automotive Big Three, is due to make its financial report later this month. It made over $100 million in the first three quarters and many financial experts feel Chrysler will top its record high of $132 million earnings in 1963.

Ford had reported a slight decline in profits for the first nine months of 1963, despite record dollar sales for that period.

The final three months, however, were the best in Ford history. Sales for that quarter totaled $2.54 billion, a record for any quarter in the history of the company, and 11 per cent ahead of the $2.29 billion figure recorded in a like quarter in 1962.

That finish sent Ford's consolidated sales for 1963 to $8.74 billion, up eight per cent over he previous high of $8.09 billion set in 1962.

The company's world wide sales of cars, trucks and tractors totaled 3,692,294 in 1963, an increase of about nine per cent over the former 1962 high of 3,376,138. Factory sales from U. S. plants in 1963 were 2,412,711 units, up three per cent over 1962.

Oddly enough, Ford's glowing report of its 1963 finances came on the same day that it issued its sales report showing that January, 1964, was running well ahead of sales in January, 1963.

The Ford report showed it had 316,568 workers worldwide last year and paid them $1.9 billion. This broke the old marks of 302,536 and $1.8 billion set in 1962.

Finance Director

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Humphrey of Cleveland, former Secretary of the Treasury, was appointed Tuesday as finance director of the Goldwater for President campaign in the Great Lakes region. The Washington campaign headquarters of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Humphrey will oversee finance work in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.
